Dark behind it rose the forest,
Rose the black and gloomy pine-trees,
Rose the firs with cones upon them;
Bright before it beat the water,
Beat the clear and sunny water,
Beat the shining Big-Sea-Water.

THE 1924

COYOTE

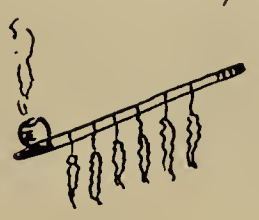

VOLUME TWENTY-TWO

Year Book

OF

Nebraska Wesleyan University

1924

To Miss Gladys Coatman

WHO, AS A WORTHY ALUMNA, AND AS A FACULTY MEMBER, HAS DONE MUCH TOWARD PROMOTING WESLEYAN TRADITIONS AND IDEALS, WHO HAS COME TO BE A TEACHER, A COUNCILOR, AND A FRIEND TO EVERY STUDENT OF NEBRASKA WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY, WE DEDICATE THE 1924 COYOTE.

Foreword

It is our wish that this twenty-second volume of the "Coyote" will keep fresh the memories of the pleasures and triumphs of our Alma Mater, and reflect the Wesleyan ideals of scholarship, democracy and Christian citizenship.

That the book might be truly representative of the faculty, student body and campus life, upon you has evolved the responsibility of its success. We hope you have made it worthwhile.

The Yellow and the Brown

Come let us raise our voices,
In one triumphant strain,
To praise our Alma Mater,
Her glories tell again;
Her emblem is the Sunflower,
That o'er the land abounds;
You can't forget her colors—
They're the yellow and the brown.

CHORUS

Oh! her emblem is the Sunflower
That o'er the land abounds;
You can't forget her co'ors—
They're the yellow and the brown.

We soon must yield our places
To mightier ones than we
And launch forth in life's battles
To be what we may be;
And when our hearts grow weary,
With care our heads bowed down
We'll think of the days at Wesleyan
'Neath the yellow and the brown.

—J. O. Hinson.

To-nite, as I sit thinking, my memory wanders back to the happy years spent at Wesleyan, and it recalls some of the landmarks that stand out so vividly—

10 o'clock—chapel time. – –

The Physics Lab. where those mysterious physical laws of nature were elucidated. – – –

"The paths of glory lead but to the grave"—This one leads across the campus. — — —

The "gym" where so many battles were waged in defense of the Yellow and Brown – –

The hospitable domicile of our dear friend—The Chancellor. – – –

The library—where we went to—study. – – –

Can we ever forget Our Alma Mater,—the main building softened by clinging vines. – – –

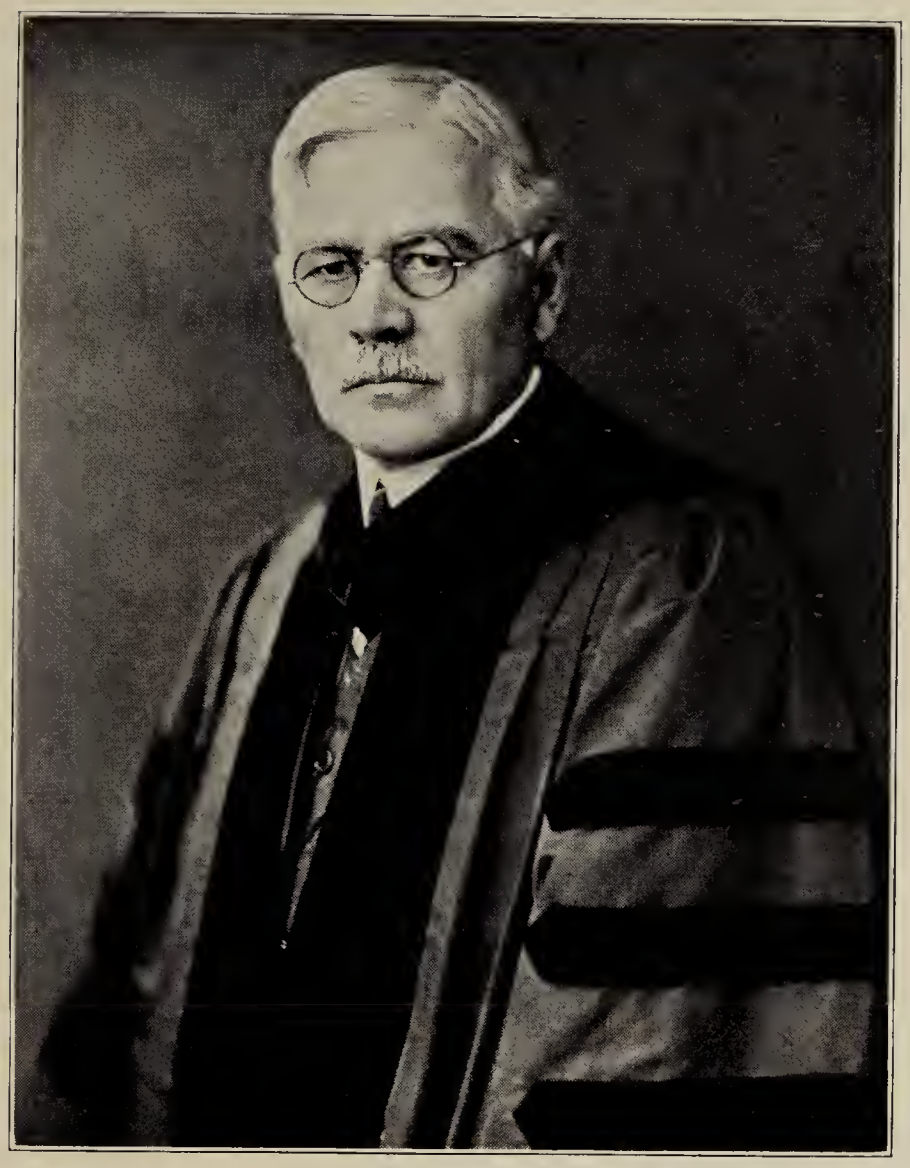

And the Church where we paid humble tribute to our Maker, and gained much religious inspiration.

The purpose of the College of Liberal Arts is to meet the needs of modern education. In addition to the general program provided by the typical college, special courses are provided for students in the prelimnary work of business administration, dentistry, engineering, law, medicine, nursing, and theology, and students may fulfill all the requirements of teachers' certificates. The administration is alert in the matter of efficiency in instruction, and insists on the very highest possible degree of excellency in all departments. The standard for regular degrees compares favorably with that of the best among our institutions of higher learning.

The tone of the institution is high in morals and scholarship. It has been and is very successful in stimulating and preparing students to do satisfactory work in recognized graduate, professional, and research institutions, in the United States and Canada.

The Teachers College

During the last few years the growth of the Teachers College has been phenomenal, and in accordance with that growth many readjustments and extensions have been necessary. The college has now outgrown the modern, sanitary building, which was built for it seven years ago and which at that time seemed to be entirely adequate. Next year it will occupy as much floor space outside this building as within. Its faculty now consists of twenty-three thoroughly trained specialists. Its departments of instruction now include Secondary Education, Elementary Education, Physical Education, Home Economics, and Manual Training. All departments lead to special certificates.

The Training School is the laboratory for supervised teaching. A complete reorganization has been effected for the coming year. Hereafter there will be the Secondary School, the Elementary School, and the Kindergarten-Primary School.

The Secondary School will include the Senior High School and the Junior High School. The old academy, which a few years ago was reorganized as the secondary department of the Teachers College, will be retained as the Senior High School. It is fully accredited with the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. It will continue to offer unusual opportunities to those who wish to prepare for college entrance, as well as to those who wish merely to complete their high school work. The Junior High School will consist of a new ninth grade and of the seventh and eighth grades, which formerly belonged to the Elementary School.

Under the reorganization, the Elementary School will consist of an intermediate room, a demonstration fourth-grade room, and a second primary room. The Kindergarten-Primary School will occupy the present location of the Kindergarten. The combination of the first grade and the kindergarten will be of distinct advantage in the training of primary teachers.

With this readjustment, the future of the Teachers College is very promising. Its duties and responsibilities moreover are very great. During 1923-4 it enrolled 582 college students for teacher training. There are two hundred candidates for certificates for 1924. It is the hope of all the members of the faculty that this college may grow in its capacity to serve the state.

The College of Fine Arts

DEAN PARVIN WITTE
B. S.
Professor of Vocal Music, and Director of Choral Music

The College of Fine Arts was formed in 1920 by uniting the schools of Music, Expression, and Art.

The School of Music has grown so rapidly the past year that several new rooms had to be put at its disposal. Each department has strengthened its courses with the result of increased enrollment. There have been some splendid recitals, notably those for two pianos and Gilbert and Sullivan's opera, "Pinafore".

The School of Expression is a vital part of the College. It has been responsible for some excellent plays this winter, in fact, the best presentations that have been given on the campus. At present the School is all "puffed" up over the acquirement of Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatic fraternity.

The School of Arts has produced some fine examples in poster work as well as in the type known as wood-cuts. There is an enormous amount of talent on the Wesleyan Campus, and it expects to find new and favorable means of expression in the reorganization of the Art School under the new Art Director.

Virgil Jensen

Virgil Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jensen of Lexington, Nebraska, died last summer of blood poisoning which resulted from an injury he received while participating in a low hurdle race on high school day, 1923.

Jensen was very prominent in athletics. He played halfback on the reserve football team. When track season came he was Wesleyan's ablest contender in the high hurdles.

Virgil was a charter member of Upsilon chapter of Phi Kappa Tau. The present Sophomore class is very proud of their claim to this departed Wesleyanite.

The man is yet to be found who ever saw Jensen angry or out of sorts. His genial smile greeted everyone everywhere. The fellows called him, "Speedy".

In Memory of Glenn Yetter

It is altogether fitting and proper that we should give this small space in memory of our loved and respected classmate "who has passed on to be with God." Nearly everyone remembered the edition of the Wesleyan that so well expressed the feelings of the entire student body, showing our love and appreciation for one who was given to us for so short a time.

Let us all remember Glenn's words, "Play the game, and play it hard, and in sportsmanlike manner." May we feel his influence in our heart, mind and spirit. We can ask ourselves, "Why was it Glenn?" We can only answer that God knows best.

It is the prayer of all of us that we may die in giving service to others as Glenn died.

SECONDARY SCHOOL

The Secondary School is a part of the University, though its organization is distinct from the college.

The scholarship of the Secondary School has a high standard of excellency. The teaching staff is of the same high type of ability as found in the best classes in the University. This gives the students of the Secondary School an unusual opportunity not only for scholarship, but they have the same privileges as the students of the University in the social and cultural life found in such a University.

GERTRUDE LUCILLE HUTCHESON

Gertrude is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, National Musical Sorority; Inter-Fraternity Council; Chapter Editor for Sigma Alpha Iota; Secretary of University Publication Board; Censor of Class Editions of Wesleyan; Member of Double Quartet of First Church; Secretary of Open Forum of Sunday School; Chorister for Y. W. C. A.; Member Senior Play Committee; Prima Donna Soprano in opera "Pinafore" and at odd moments has completed the work for both her A.B. and B.F.A.

Gertrude majors in voice under Dean Parvin Witte.

ENID COOK

Enid is a charter member of Upsilon chapter, Sigma Alpha Iota.

She has taught a class of thirty-three squirmy tots, in her home town of Stanton, Nebr., and traveled back and forth between there and Wesleyan to complete her work for Conservatory graduation.

Enid graduates in piano under Professor Carl Beutel.

The Wesleyan Male Quartet

Students and friends have every reason to be proud of the work being done by the Wesleyan Male Quartet.

In the first place, each member of the quartet has an excellent voice, which he handles well. Then, too, the boys have been trained so that each one loses his own personality in a group consciousness as he sings. This enables the hearer to get unity of effect. The voices have this same quality, and blend as the notes of one instrument.

Miss Sara Marshall, director of the quartet, has given much time and careful attention to their training. She has developed especially their ability to interpret music in a satisfying way.

The quartet consists of Clinton Swengel, first tenor; Roy Fager, second tenor; Harry Vedder, baritone; and Jean Bader, bass. They accompany the Wesleyan Male Glee Club on trips, and expect to give a home concert. They also plan to do some concert work this summer.

Choir

The purpose of this organization is to furnish music at the First Methodist Church, and to enable the students to get first hand knowledge of, and experience in, the best of church music.

The University Chorus, which includes the First Church Choir, other students, and interested towns-people will present Elijah, the famous oratorio, during the May Festival, May 5 and 6.

May Festival

The first annual May Music Festival of Nebraska Wesleyan was given in the auditorium, May 5th and 6th. The festival consisted of three concerts. The first, Monday afternoon, was given by the Oratorio Quartette: Mrs. Allen Taylor, soprano; Mrs. Raymond Havens, contralto; Carleton Cummings, tenor, and Howard Preston, baritone.

Mrs. Allen Taylor, of Kansas City, Missouri, has a clear, sweet and sympathetic voice. She sings for the pleasure of singing; because she enjoys it.

Mrs. Raymond Havens of Kansas City, Missouri, is an artist of rare ability. Her voice has a pleasing quality and she sings with a great deal of dramatic power. Howard Preston, baritone, of Chicago, sang as only a true artist could. His voice is deep and full and his enunciation is clear. His interpretation of Elijah was ideal. He has the voice, the dramatic sense, and an appreciation of the significance of the part.

Carleton Cummings is a graduate of the Nebraska Wesleyan School of Music, and for the past two years has been located in Chicago. He has an exceptionally brilliant and colorful voice of heroic range. He sings with much warmth and color of tone.

The program of these four artists consisted of solos from each, and a duet by Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Allen.

Monday evening, Florence MacBeth gave her delightful program. It is undoubtedly the best along this line that we have had. She is a true coloratura soprano. Her voice is bright and animated, its sweetness and smoothness was shown in Handel's "What's Sweeter Than a Rose?" Throughout her entire program she was ably assisted by George Roberts, accompanist and composer. Her unaffectedly gracious manner completely captivated her appreciative audience.

The grand climax came Tuesday evening, when Mendelssohn's magnificent oratorio, Elijah, was given by the University Chorus and interested townspeople, directed by Dean Parvin Witte, accompanied by the University orchestra, directed by Professor August Molzer. The oratorio artists sang the solo parts.

This completed the Festival. Every number was much enjoyed by the audiences, and we hope that the May Music Festival has come to Nebraska Wesleyan to stay.

The Wesleyan Orchestra

The Nebraska Wesleyan Orchestra has completed a successful year. Regular weekly rehearsals have been held for practice in ensemble work. It has played for several important occasions during the year, but its greatest accomplishment was to accompany the oratorio, Elijah, which was held May 5 and 6.

Girls' Glee Club

This year marks the third anniversary of the Nebraska Wesleyan Girls' Glee Club. There are forty members in the club. Their itinerary has been limited so far because of the newness of the organization. They sang before the Lincoln Credit Association at their Annual Banquet held in the Grand Hotel; also for the First M. E. Sunday School of University Place, and at Lincoln Heights. The trip to Ashland April 27th was especially enjoyed. Here they sang in the M. E. Church. The Club boasts of its fine quartet which has added greatly to their programs.

The seventeenth annual tour of the Nebraska Wesleyan Glee Club was the most successful of years. The quality of work put out by Director Witte has met with highest praise from Nebraska's musical critics. The moral conduct of the men on the trips was beyond reproach, and the fellows carried Wesleyan spirit with them into Nebraska towns.

We feel that the Glee Club is one of Wesleyan's greatest advertising media. The men were entertained in over 400 homes, gave 66 public appearances in 34 communities, losing only 9 days of school in so doing.

YALE HOME

"Pinafore"

Gilbert and Sullivan's famous opera "Pinafore" was presented February 29, 1924, by Upsilon Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota. For five weeks previous to this important and gala occasion, one saw Mrs. Witte, the director, closely followed by Bertha McClain, the pianist, each hugging a Pinafore score under her arm. They were usually in active pursuit of some beautiful chorus girl, or handsome and manly sailor. Queer sounds and more, or maybe we should say most, queer words rang out from usually sedate studios. These things excited our curiosity greatly. The performance fully came up to our expectations however, for it was beautifully given. Each member of the cast sang and acted like real professionals, and we were all amused by the whimsicalities of the lines and entertained by the charming music so well sung. The chorus work was excellent throughout and, in fact, the entire performance was notable for its freshness and spontaneity.

High School Day

In spite of rain, cold weather and other indignities heaped upon Wesleyan folk by the Weather Man, the seventh annual high school day brought approximately five hundred high school students to the campus. Four hundred eighty-two registered, and not less than two dozen others applied for admission tickets to the college night performance, explaining their request by stating that they did not get here in time to register. Fifty-four high schools were represented, and twenty-eight schools had entries in the scholastic meet. Twenty-three teams signed up for entries in the high school track and field meet, but not all of these were able to be present because of the muddy roads, and only fourteen teams actually entered the competition.

The scholastic meet included events in Algebra, Bookkeeping, Botany, Citizenship, English, Expression, Extempore Speaking, Geography, Geometry, History, Hygiene, Physics, Piano, Singing, and Spelling. First, second and third prizes were awarded, and in several instances honorable mention was given to contestants

The University maintained open house throughout the day. The various departments conducted experiments for the benefit of the visitors, and displays of equipment of the laboratories made interesting observation for the guests of Wesleyan.

The Wesleyan band opened the convocation at 10 o'clock. Greetings were extended by Dean B. E. McProud of the Teachers' College. State Superintendent John M. Matzen gave the address of the morning, emphasizing the benefits of a college education. Basketball letters were awarded by Coach Glen Preston to the cage battlers of the 1924 season. The playlet, "The Pot Boilers," a clever one-act production by the Dramatic Club, preceded the singing of "The Yellow and the Brown."

At noon the high school students were the guests of the university at dinner served at the cafeteria and the church. Again in the evening the university served supper to the guests.

Track fans refused to have their plans thwarted by the drizzling rain which fell during the greater part of the afternoon, and a large number of these enthusiasts, sheltered beneath umbrellas and raincoats, encouraged their favorites on the heavy track. Lincoln High took first honors, and Blanchard, Iowa, finished second. A total of ninety-four entries were made in the meet.

One of the most clever stunts ever presented in a college night contest was staged by the seniors in the prize winning stunt in the evening of high school day. The seniors depicted in a graphic manner the needs of the world as they manifest themselves to the college student. The Spirit of Wesleyan challenged the Wesleyan Graduate for an answer to these needs, and the Graduate responded with a promised attempt to solve these perplexities. The stunt was typical of Wesleyan, was clever in its suggestion and its humor, and was well presented. Second place was awarded to the sophomores, third place to the juniors, and fourth place to the freshmen. The main floor and the gallery were filled for the performance.

The awarding of prizes in the scholastic and athletic contests ended the day.

Forensics

Wesleyan Forensics this year were of such calibre as to add considerable prestige to our already widely known and respected forensic reputation. Earl Raitt, our orator in the State Oratorical Contest, held at Hastings, came home with third honors. He also ranked high among the orators at the Pi Kappa Delta National Convention held at Peoria, Illinois. In addition, he took first honors in the Annual Hero Day Oratorical Contest. Second honors went to Herbert Gray. The winning oration was "The Challenge of Peace". The title of the oration which was awarded second place was "War Insurance".

In debate, Wesleyan met some of the strongest teams in the middle west, including teams from schools of well-known standing in forensics. Park College, Morningside, Denver University, Des Moines University, Washburn, Cornell College, Iowa State Teachers College, and others were among the schools debated this year. Perhaps the outstanding feat of the debate season was the defeat of the Intermountain Union College team of Helena, Montana. This team had just completed an extensive debate trip covering eleven states and nineteen debates. Our Affirmative team, composed of John Casteel, Merrill Norlin, and Roscoe Chenoweth, administered the first defeat this Montana team had suffered on the Negative side of the World Court question.

A number of the debate coaches who heard our teams at the Pi Kappa Delta Convention said it was some of the finest debating they had heard in years.

Two questions were debated this year. One was, Resolved: "That the U. S. Should Join the World Court". The other was, Resolved: "That the U. S. Should Join the League of Nations". The Affirmative teams were composed of Elizabeth Connelly, John Casteel, Merrill Norlin, and Roscoe Chenoweth. The Negative teams were composed of Herbert Gray, Earl Adams, and Merrill Norlin.

To Professor J. Manley Phelps, Coach of Forensics, is due much of the credit for the splendid showing of our debate teams. He has developed a smooth and pleasing, as well as logical presentation in his teams which is remarked by all those familiar with the work of the debaters.

With a good nucleus for next year, losing none of her debaters through graduation, Wesleyan should make a better record than has been made this year.

Pi Kappa Delta is a National Forensic Fraternity. The purpose of the organization is to stimulate progress in, and to promote the interests of, collegiate and intercollegiate oratory, debate, and public speaking by encouraging a spirit of forensic fellowship and of brotherly co-operation and interest, and by conferring upon deserving candidates emblems of proficiency, honor or distinction, varied according to merit and achievement.

Nebraska Alpha Chapter is composed of fourteen members. This body has official charge of all forensic activities at Wesleyan.

The emblem is the form of a key set with jewels which designate honors won.

The Agassiz Association is a national organization, which was originated in 1875 by Harlan B. Ballard. The purposes of the organization are for the promotion of scientific education, the advancement of science, the collection in museums of natural and scientific specimens, and the employment of observers and teachers. The association has its headquarters at Arcadia in Sound Beach, Connecticut.

Nebraska Wesleyan organized a branch of the Agassiz Association, and was admitted to the National Organization in 1917. Membership is open to Nature Study Students who fulfill certain requirements. The association meets every two weeks.

The College Council is a group of students elected to carry on and encourage all forms of student activities, events and demonstrations. They make the rules concerning, and take charge of Freshman-Sophomore Olympics, High School Day, and College Night. They are also responsible for class and university elections, Homecoming Day, Pan-Wesleyan Banquet, and Arbor Day exercises.

This group is chosen by the student body, the president of the class at the time, the president immediately preceding, and one other member elected the second semester of the following year, representing each class. If the Freshman lose the Olympics they may not choose a member for College Council the second semester, but must wait until the beginning of the Sophomore year. Other classes have five representatives for the year.

The new members are chosen according to their scholastic record, school activities, and interest shown in school problems during their previous years of enrollment. Also the ability and character of the man are considered as he is chosen to act in this organization.

The purposes of the fraternity are: First, to promote and further the interests of the University; Second, to stimulate interest among the students in all worthy college activities; Third, to promote the spirit of democracy upon the campus among all the students. This year has been marked with several very important advances in carrying out these purposes.

The Wesleyan Press Club was organized last October by the students in the department of journalism. The organization has as its purpose, stimulation of interest in the subject of journalism, and the increasing of knowledge in points concerning newspaper and publication work.

The program for the year has included subjects discussed by Dr. Hunter, and talks or resume of articles read by members of the club. One of the most interesting meetings of the year included a talk by Gregg McBride of the Lincoln Star on the subject of "Sport Writing." Other speakers engaged in newspaper work will present the work of the newspaper from the practical standpoint.

The Indianapolis Convention

Nebraska Wesleyan was very well represented at the Ninth Quadrennial Convention of The Student Volunteers, which was held at Indianapolis during Christmas vacation. Besides the Chancellor, the following fourteen students were present: Ray Allen, Esther Andren, Margaret Bogle, James Connelly, Paul Copeland, Elsie Egly, Ethel Evans, John Johansen, Mildred Ormsby, Earl Raitt, Pearl Sherlock, Robert Shepard, Beryl Snyder, and Clinton Swengel.

This convention was the greatest and most representative meeting of college students that has ever been held. Students were there from eight hundred and forty-one institutions. There were students of many different nationalities, and from foreign universities to the number of three hundred and eighty. The total number of students was five thousand, four hundred and seventy-one, and the total registration was six thousand, one hundred and ninety-five. The gathering was great not only in the numerical sense, but the things that were accomplished there have already had a far-reaching effect.

The careful, sane discussions of the vital problems facing the world today left with every delegate a sense of responsibility. Rodin's "Thinker" may be said to be symbolic of the convention. The students WERE thinkers, and when such a number of people think seriously on the same subject there is bound to be a result. New attitudes were formed by many, and these were taken back to the campuses all over the world for the benefit of the rest of the students.

The main discussions centered about the Race question, War, Industrial strife, and International Relations. These were discussed in the main with reference to their Christian solutions. Many interesting and helpful discussions have been held on our campus since the return of the delegates, and evidences of the influence of the convention are evident on every side.

Our group had a very interesting trip both ways, and many new friendships were formed. There were so many ridiculous and funny things which took place that it would not be fair to start telling them, for want of space. It would be less fair, however, not to suggest that some one ask Beryl and Ethel why they were requested to change tables at lunch time in a famous Chicago lunch room. Having mentioned that, ask Paul Copeland how to mail letters at a county court house, when the post office is just across the street. Any one of a certain five can tell how it feels to miss the special train, and have to take a later one. Clinton says that he will always check his overcoat. But the gem of the whole collection came to our attention when Ethel discovered (or thought she did) that Foch came from Indiana.

Seriously, the meeting was so wonderful in every way that it will always live in the minds of those who attended. Its influence will be felt by all who have taken a little time for serious thought with those who were there. It will still be fresh in the memories of most of us when the next meeting is held, in four years, and will be a drawing card for that convention.

The purpose of the Freshman Commission is to get Freshmen girls interested and actively engaged in Y. W. C. A. work. Many Freshmen lose their interest in Y. W. before they are well enough acquainted with college work in the regular organization. The commission is composed of fifteen Freshmen girls who are Y. W. members. Five of these are elected by the entire group of Freshmen girls, and ten are elected by the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and advisory board. These girls meet every two weeks and study conditions of our campus, and then endeavor to correct any undesirable conditions by casting their influence on the right side. It is the object of every Freshmen Commission girl to be a friend of every Freshmen girl on our campus.

"Then said a rich man, 'Speak to us of Giving',
And he answered:
'You give but little when you give of your possessions.
It is when you give of yourself that you truly give.

* * * *

"'There are those who have little and give it all.
There are believers in life, and their coffer is never empty.
There are those who give with joy, and that joy is their reward.
And there are those who give with pain, and that pain is their baptism.
And there are those who give and know not pain in giving, nor do they seek joy, nor give with mindfulness of virtue;
They give as in yonder valley the myrtle breathes its fragrance into space.
Through the hands of such as these God speaks, and from behind their eyes He smiles upon the earth'.

* * * *

"You often say, 'I would give but only to the deserving',
Surely he who is worthy to receive his nights and days, is worthy of all else from you.
See first that you yourself deserve to be a giver and an instrument of Giving,
For in truth it is life that gives unto life—while you, who deem yourself a giver, are but a witness."

The Young Men's Christian Association this year has endeavored to carry on its program in a way which would benefit every man on the campus. To better serve the men, the Friendship Council plan became a big factor in connecting the membership with the cabinet, and the work which it carried on during the year. Seventeen men composed this council through being department heads on the cabinet, and in this way kept the men posted as to the general work of the "Y".

Approximately two hundred and forty men were members of the association this year. Each year new men come here and find that the Y. M. C. A. gives them a place to associate with other fellows and broaden their friendships. There was a large interest shown by the men on the campus in the program of the "Y," and each man felt that he had a part to play in the making of the work effective upon the campus. Though the detail work of the association must be handled by a small group, known as the cabinet, yet the attitude and actions of the members in the organization decide whether it is a success or not. When the men are interested and take part in the activities, we believe the "Y" has a big place on our campus.

Our general meetings this year were led by faculty members, taking the book, "The Social Significance of the Teachings of Jesus Christ," by Jeremiah Jenks, and bringing to us in an interesting way the life of Christ, and His teachings. These meetings were held twice a month. The cabinet meetings were held each Monday night, and the executive meetings were held each Thursday evening. Then each Friday morning at seven-thirty the members of the cabinet and others who were interested came for a thirty-minute morning-watch.

Throughout this year it has been the policy that Christian service should be uppermost in the lives of the men on the campus. The Young Men's Christian Association has been the greatest factor in helping the men to give this service to their biggest and fullest measure.

The year 1923-24 has been marked with some signs of achievement, and whatever that has been it is only hoped that it may be a stepping-stone for a greater and better work in the years ahead. It is with a deep feeling of regret that more could not be accomplished, yet, with hopes high and greater anticipations we look forward to the coming of a better and bigger association on our campus.

Events

"HOME-COMING DAY"

Friday, November 10, 1923, was a gala day at N. W. U. For weeks the phrase "Beat Des Moines University" had been on the lips of all. By Thursday night the whole town was bright with lighted banners. Each fraternity and sorority house was decorated in honor of the "Grads" returning on this, our fourteenth annual Home-Coming Day. At eight o'clock a huge bonfire was lighted on the campus, the students gathering here and proceeding with a snake dance through the streets, singing college songs.

Friday dawned bright and sunshiny. Ten o'clock found the student body at chapel, where Chancellor Schreckengast delivered his Home-Coming address. Seated on the platform were the Board of Trustees and visiting Alumni. At three o'clock the student body, faculty, alumni, and well-wishers of Nebraska Wesleyan gathered on Johnson field to witness the biggest football game of the season, which resulted in a 2-5 score in favor of the Coyotes.

DR. RALL SPEAKS TO STUDENTS AND TOWNSPEOPLE

Beginning Sunday morning, October 28, Dr. Rall of Garrett Biblical Institute spoke twice each day during the week, completing his series on the evening of November 4. His fine spirit and broad scholarship make him a most gripping speaker. It was evident at all times that he was speaking to those who care to think. According to his theory, while there may be conflict between scientists and religionists, there is no conflict between science and religion, for both are of God's world. The "Rule of God" in the world will be established when the will of Christ dominates men as they live and work together.

It is impossible to summarize a series of great addresses on such great themes. A glance of some of the subjects may help the reader to imagine the treat which came to our students and faculty: "The Meaning of God"; "Fundamentalism"; "Evolution and Religion"; "The Authority of the Bible"; "The Meaning of Christ"; "A Social Faith"; "The Life Beyond"; "Christ and the New Order".

In no instance was the speaker unfair in his attempt to show the untenable position of those who disagree with his views. On such subjects as "Fundamentalism" and "Evolution" he openly and frankly challenged the position of the conservatives, and at the same time laid a solid foundation for a Christian faith compatible with what some call a modern viewpoint.

BISHOP HENDERSON VISITS WESLEYAN

Bishop Henderson spent the week of March 9 to 16, inclusive, conducting special meetings during the Wesleyan chapel period, and holding services each evening in the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Everyone was impressed by the way in which Bishop Henderson gave of himself. In addition to the two helpful services each day, he spent many hours in assisting students in solving their problems. Bishop Henderson's sermons were well illustrated by examples that appealed especially to students. Long will they remember his life-service motto, "Whatever, whenever, wherever."

Everywhere on the campus there has been a more thoughtful and considerate attitude since this week of meditation and communion.

THE PAN WESLEYAN

The Pan Wesleyan Banquet was held March 20, 1924, in the main dining-room of the Lincoln Hotel. About four hundred students, faculty members, and trustees were present at this affair.

Dr. Clemens, the toast-master, and his able toasters made the evening very interesting. We were glad to hear that E. J. Simonds was in the audience. He is a graduate of N. W. U. and is now living in Cuba. He addressed the group and expressed his great delight at being back "home" for such an auspicious occasion.

This is one social affair for the whole school that should be well attended.

May the Pan Wesleyans to come be even greater than those that are past.

Cub Sellers

A Coyote was given to each of these three students for selling the highest number of cubs. Cassius sold forty-eight,—Lillian and Alice each forty-one. The following students each earned a cub: Charlotte Gantz, Lucile King, Mercedes Frazier, Lois Martin, John Calvert and Howard Thompson.

The following organizations were awarded a Coyote for going 100% in buying cubs: Alpha Delta Omega, Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Kappa Delta, Delta Omega Phi, Delta Phi, Everett, Willard and Zeta Phi.

"THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD"

By William Holman

This has been called the most beautiful picture of a sacred subject ever painted. Christ is represented as knocking at the door of a human soul. An art window, reproducing this beautiful picture in colors, has recently been presented to the Nebraska Wesleyan University by the alumnae of the Alpha Kappa Delta Sorority. The window is at the head of the first landing as you enter the front door of the Main Building. Artistically and symbolically, the window is certain to exert most wholesome influence. The donors deserve the thanks of all friends of the University.

FORD CAR STOLEN

Just before Christmas, Chancellor Schreckengast had his old Ford car stolen. It was taken out in broad daylight from his garage by a number of Wesleyan students, led on by the president of the Senior Class, Mr. Loder. The car was traded to a University Place garage for a new Dodge sedan, made possible by the generous contributions of people on the Wesleyan Campus, the sum of nearly $1,000, which Mr. Loder boldly took along in the stolen car. One of the happiest post-Christmas chapel events was the presentation of this car to Dr. and Mrs. Schreckengast.

The Alumni Association is organized for the following purposes: To foster Wesleyan spirit among her graduates and former students; to acquaint people with the work the University is doing as an educational institution; to give financial support to Alma Mater; and to carry Nebraska Wesleyan ideals into all activities in which alumni are engaged.

The big affair of the year is the annual Alumni Banquet which is held during the Commencement season. Here graduates renew their old-time college spirit and become acquainted with the newest alumni who are going out with the same feeling of loyalty for Alma Mater. Every five years classes have special reunions. The class which has been out of school twenty-five years is the Honor Class. The alumni speaker who gives the main address at the banquet is chosen from this group if possible.

The official publication of the association is The Alumnus. It is edited by the Executive Committee, and published three times a year as a regular university bulletin. The editors endeavor to carry out the aims of the organization by acquainting each alumnus with the activities of the school and the work of the other alumni. This year, the success of the magazine has been due to the co-operation of the alumni who have sent in news generously, and the local members of the organization who have assisted in the editing.

Boston Alumni Chapter

The Nebraska Wesleyan University Alumni Association of Boston is composed of graduates and former students of the school, who live in and about Boston. No matter what type of work any of the members may be engaged in, they are all united by the cords of memory of "Dear Old College Home" for they "can't forget her colors, they're the Yellow and the Brown."

Following is a list of the "Coyotes" who are taking Wesleyan spirit into the life of staid old Boston:

George Cramer McCay Crow Larson

OUR ALUMNI

The Twin Cities chapter was very interested in our "Alumni Section," but were unable to take a page in the Coyote. The Red Willow County chapter is a new chapter, organized this year, and it certainly is a "peppy" group. You will notice their page in this section. The Boston chapter was very prompt in asking for a page. And no wonder—see the snaps they could send. Of course they knew we would be interested in pictures of scenes we cannot see every day. The Ceresco chapter sent a very interesting reply, but felt that they were not entitled to our section, due to their form of organization. Anyone who has ever attended, or is attending, Wesleyan, also their husbands and wives, are eligible. Their purpose is to interest the young people of Ceresco in some Christian school and of course they boost for Wesleyan. Another chapter was heard from and this was the Clay County chapter, organized within the last year or so. They wanted a page, but due to bad roads were not able to get together to take the pictures. These were all of the chapters that responded except for the picture from Southern California.

EDITOR'S NOTE

We have attempted to organize a section of our Coyote for our alumni who do so much for us. We believe that it will be not only interesting to an alumnus who may see the book, but it will also help the students to become acquainted with the different associations.

As you now have read, several chapters answered our letter and expressed their interest in our project. We hope that there are other chapters interested as well.

Our great hope is that this section may grow, and in years to come may represent each chapter of our alumni association.

Dr. Van Fleet, a prominent patron and trustee of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, made possible, by his efforts and donations, the erection of the Van Fleet Teachers College. During this construction, he held the responsible position of Financial Secretary of the University. Besides officiating in this position, he was and is a true friend of the student body and faculty.

Dr. and Mrs. Van Fleet have recently completed an interesting tour in the Southland.

Their first stop was Springfield, Missouri. From there they went to Memphis, Tennessee. At this place they visited the Scottish Rite Temple and other Masonic buildings. On a large bluff is a monument in memory of the heroes of the great World War.

Vicksburg was the next place of interest, its name being derived from the family of Vicks. The founder, Newit Vicks, was a planter and Methodist clergyman. This city has the largest and one of the most beautiful National Cemeteries, also a National Military Park.

At Baton Rouge they visited the State University, which opened in 1860 with General W. T. Sherman as its president, who resigned after one year to join the Federal Army. Five different flags have floated over this city, the French, Spanish, British, Confederate and Old Glory.

Little Rock is a city of roses. Many flowers bloom during the winter. In the capitol building can be seen paintings and monuments of all the great Confederate heroes. They noticed especially the painting of a boy who died as a martyr for the South. He held back valuable information rather than betray his friends, and for this reason he was executed.

Upon returning from the Southland, Dr. Van Fleet was requested to fill the position as pastor of the St. James M. E. Church of Lincoln, where he is now rendering effective Christian service.

The Inter-Fraternity Council is a student group, the purpose of which is to discuss and regulate all inter-fraternity matters. It is composed of one member from each fraternity and sorority, and one member of the faculty. The officers are president and secretary, the faculty member acting as president. This council does much on the Wesleyan campus in the way of creating a democratic student life.

Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional musical sorority, was founded June 12, 1903, in the University School of Music at Ann Arbor, Michigan. The first National Honorary member was Mme. Louise Homer.

The object of this Sorority is to give moral and material aid to its members, to promote and dignify the musical profession, to establish and maintain friendly relations between musicians and music schools, and to further the development of music in America.

This is the first National Sorority to be installed in Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Marjorie Maxwell and Kathryn Foster were initiated Chapter Honorary members.

ATHLETICS

COACH PRESTON

This is Coach Preston's first year at Nebraska Wesleyan. Although this is also his first year as a coach, he has succeeded in turning out teams that have attracted much attention and maintained the high standards set by Wesleyan teams in the past.

Coach Preston has brought to the Wesleyan campus a great deal more than his knowledge of athletics. It might be said that he senses athletics in their true sphere: that of developing better men. Through his leadership and his own high ideals he has been a potent factor, not only in building successful teams, but in turning out men who are imbued with the true Wesleyan spirit and ideals.

CARL PETERSON

GLEN PRESTON

PROF. H. A. DURHAM

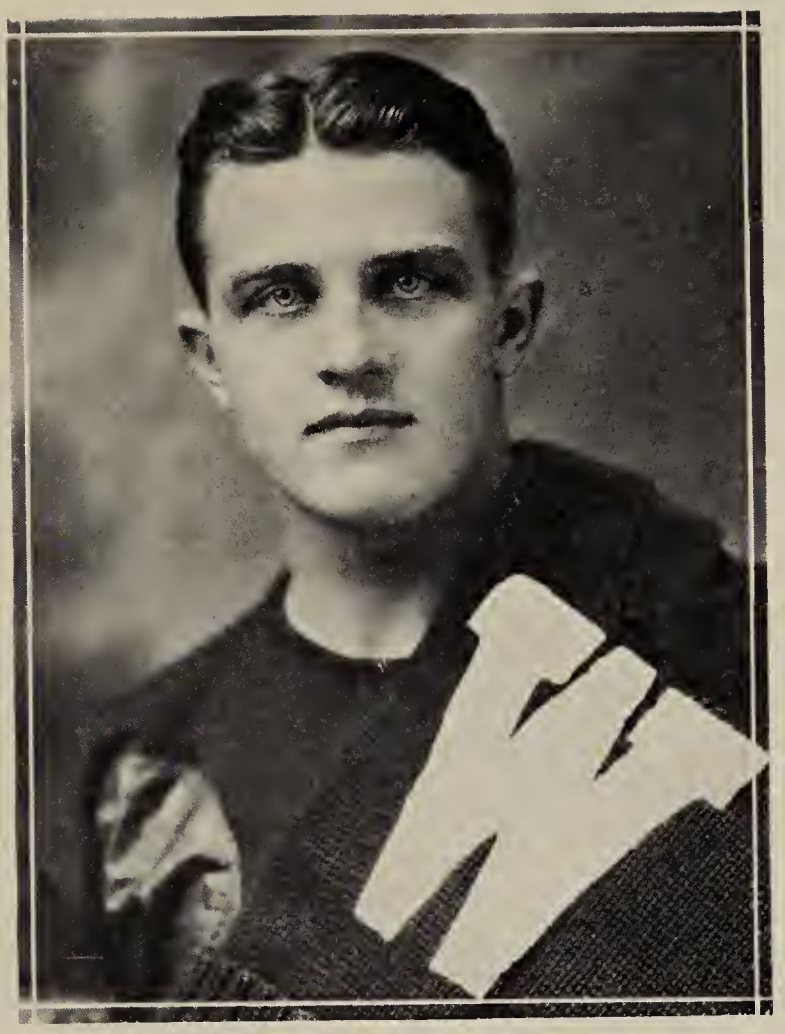

The Coaching Staff

The coaching staff this year has reached a degree of excellence that few schools of this size are able to enjoy. With three coaches, an increased number of men have been given the opportunity to get out for the football team, and a greater degree of specialization has been made possible.

Peterson, a former team mate of Preston's, was appointed assistant coach of football. He devoted his attention to the line men. Pete is himself a line man of exceptional ability, and was able to teach the boys a few of the latest tricks of the game. Under his direction, the Wesleyan line developed into a well nigh impenetrable forward wall.

Wesleyan is indeed fortunate in having a man so well fitted as Preston to act as head coach. Himself a product of one of the greatest football coaches in the United States, as well as a quarterback on one of the greatest football teams that has ever represented Nebraska, he has brought to Wesleyan the latest methods of coaching and playing. Under his tutelage the Coyotes have been worthy opponents for the best teams in this section of the country. Preston is himself a hard worker, and has that peculiar ability of coaching which is the composite of many other abilities. As a coach he has been able to command the respect and the loyalty which is so necessary for winning teams.

Howard Durham, as coach of the scrubs, has been able to build teams that have given the Varsity a hard struggle. In this capacity he has been a factor in making the Varsity teams what they were. The scrubs are fortunate in having such a leader as Durham has been, and many a player has been elevated to the Varsity squad because of the training he received from Coach Durham. He will act as freshmen coach next year.

CAPTAIN O. L. DONOHOE Decatur

Tackle, third year; Junior; weight 192

Termed "the fighting captain of a fighting team," Donohoe was a tower of strength on both the offense and defense. Donnie was selected on the mythical "all" teams of both conferences. Donohoe and his 1924 Coyotes have made for themselves a name that will last

Captain-elect Gembler

ELVIN GEMBLER Goehner

Halfback, second year; Junior; weight 160

Gembler is well fitted to lead such a great team as next year's Coyotes should be. Gembler's great speed makes him shine as an open field runner, as well as a dependable line plunger

FRANCIS ALABASTER University Place

Quarterback, third year; Junior; weight 140

North Central coaches were unanimous in selecting Alabaster for the North Central Conference All Star team. Ally is undoubtedly one of the best quarterbacks that Wesleyan has ever had

RALPH HURLBUT University Place

Guard, second year; Junior; weight 180

Hully has been one of the outstanding players on this year's team. His height, and his ability to break through the opponent's line has enabled him to intercept one pass or block at least one punt in every game

Alabaster

Hurlbut

EARL RAITT Burton

Tackle; third year; Junior; weight 190

Raitt's stellar game at guard has been a factor in many a victory. In the Midland game, and again in the Des Moines, Earl did particularly brilliant work. Raitt was selected for the All-State team.

Raitt

BERT BALLER University Place

Guard; second year; Senior; weight 170

Baller is the only member of this year's team who will graduate this year. Playing two years at York, Bert rounded out his college career at Wesleyan. Needless to say, he will be missed next year

DONALD HARRINGTON University Place

End; second year; Junior; weight 150

Don was given honorable mention by North Central coaches. Although the lightest man in the line, he was as effective as any in turning back the opponent's rushes

Baller

Harrington

Huyck

CLAUDE HUYCK Pawnee City

Center; first year; Freshman; weight 165

Playing his first year of varsity football, and his first year as center, Huyck proved to be a thoroughly dependable pivot man. With three years to play, Huyck should develop into a wonderful center

LLOYD SOWERS University Place

Halfback; third year; Junior; weight 185

Sowers has developed into a line plunger who is always good for a substantial gain. Tiny did exceptional work in the Des Moines and Trinity games

OSCAR WIBERG Sedan

Fullback; first year; Freshman; weight 185

Wiberg was one of the finds of the season. Wee Wee outpunted almost every kicker he faced this year. With three more years to play, Wiberg should develop into one of the best backs that Wesleyan has ever produced

Sowers

Wiberg

DELL DANKER Riverton

Halfback; first year; Freshman; weight 160
Danker showed great promise early in the season, but did not get to play out the season due to a broken ankle received in the South Dakota game. Coach Preston predicts great things for Dell

Danker

CHARLES CLARK North Loup

Halfback; first year; Freshman; weight 175
Clark did not find himself until the Grand Island game, when he accounted for three of Wesleyan's scores. Since then he has been developing rapidly and with three more years he will undoubtedly become a wonderful back

GLEN YETTER University Place

Freshman; first year; weight 155
Followers of the 1924 Wesleyan football team will always remember Glen as that fighting end who played the game of football as he did the game of life; fighting hard, playing cleanly and following the rules of the game

Season's Review

Altho the jinx that has camped on the trail of the Coyotes in State conference competition was still with us this year, Nebraska Wesleyan came out on top in The North Central conference. The Coyotes were not awarded the championship, however, because they were one game short of the number necessary to qualify them.

Wesleyan opened the season October 6, on Johnson Field, trouncing Wayne Normal 25 to 0. Hurlbut accounted for two of Wesleyans scores, one on an intercepted pass and the other on a blocked punt.

Midland, with a team of veterans met the Coyotes the following week. Several times last year's champions were within striking distance of the Wesleyan goal, but each time they were thrown back. The final score was 0 to 0.

Wesleyan opened their North Central competition October 20, at Vermillion. Touted as a probable winner, South Dakota University could do no more than battle the Coyotes to a scoreless tie.

In the next game, with Trinity, Wesleyan won easily by a 42 to 0 score. Wesleyan began to find herself in this game, working better in all departments of the game and rounding into shape.

The following week, on Home-Coming day, Wesleyan fully vindicated her right to a berth in the North Central Conference. The Des Moines Tigers, conquerors of Creighton and Morningside were played to a standstill and humbled by a 5 to 2 score.

The Coyotes met Cotner next in a mid-week game. Most of the game was played by second string men although Gembler did the bulk of the scoring in the last period when he broke away for three touchdowns. The final score was 27 to 0.

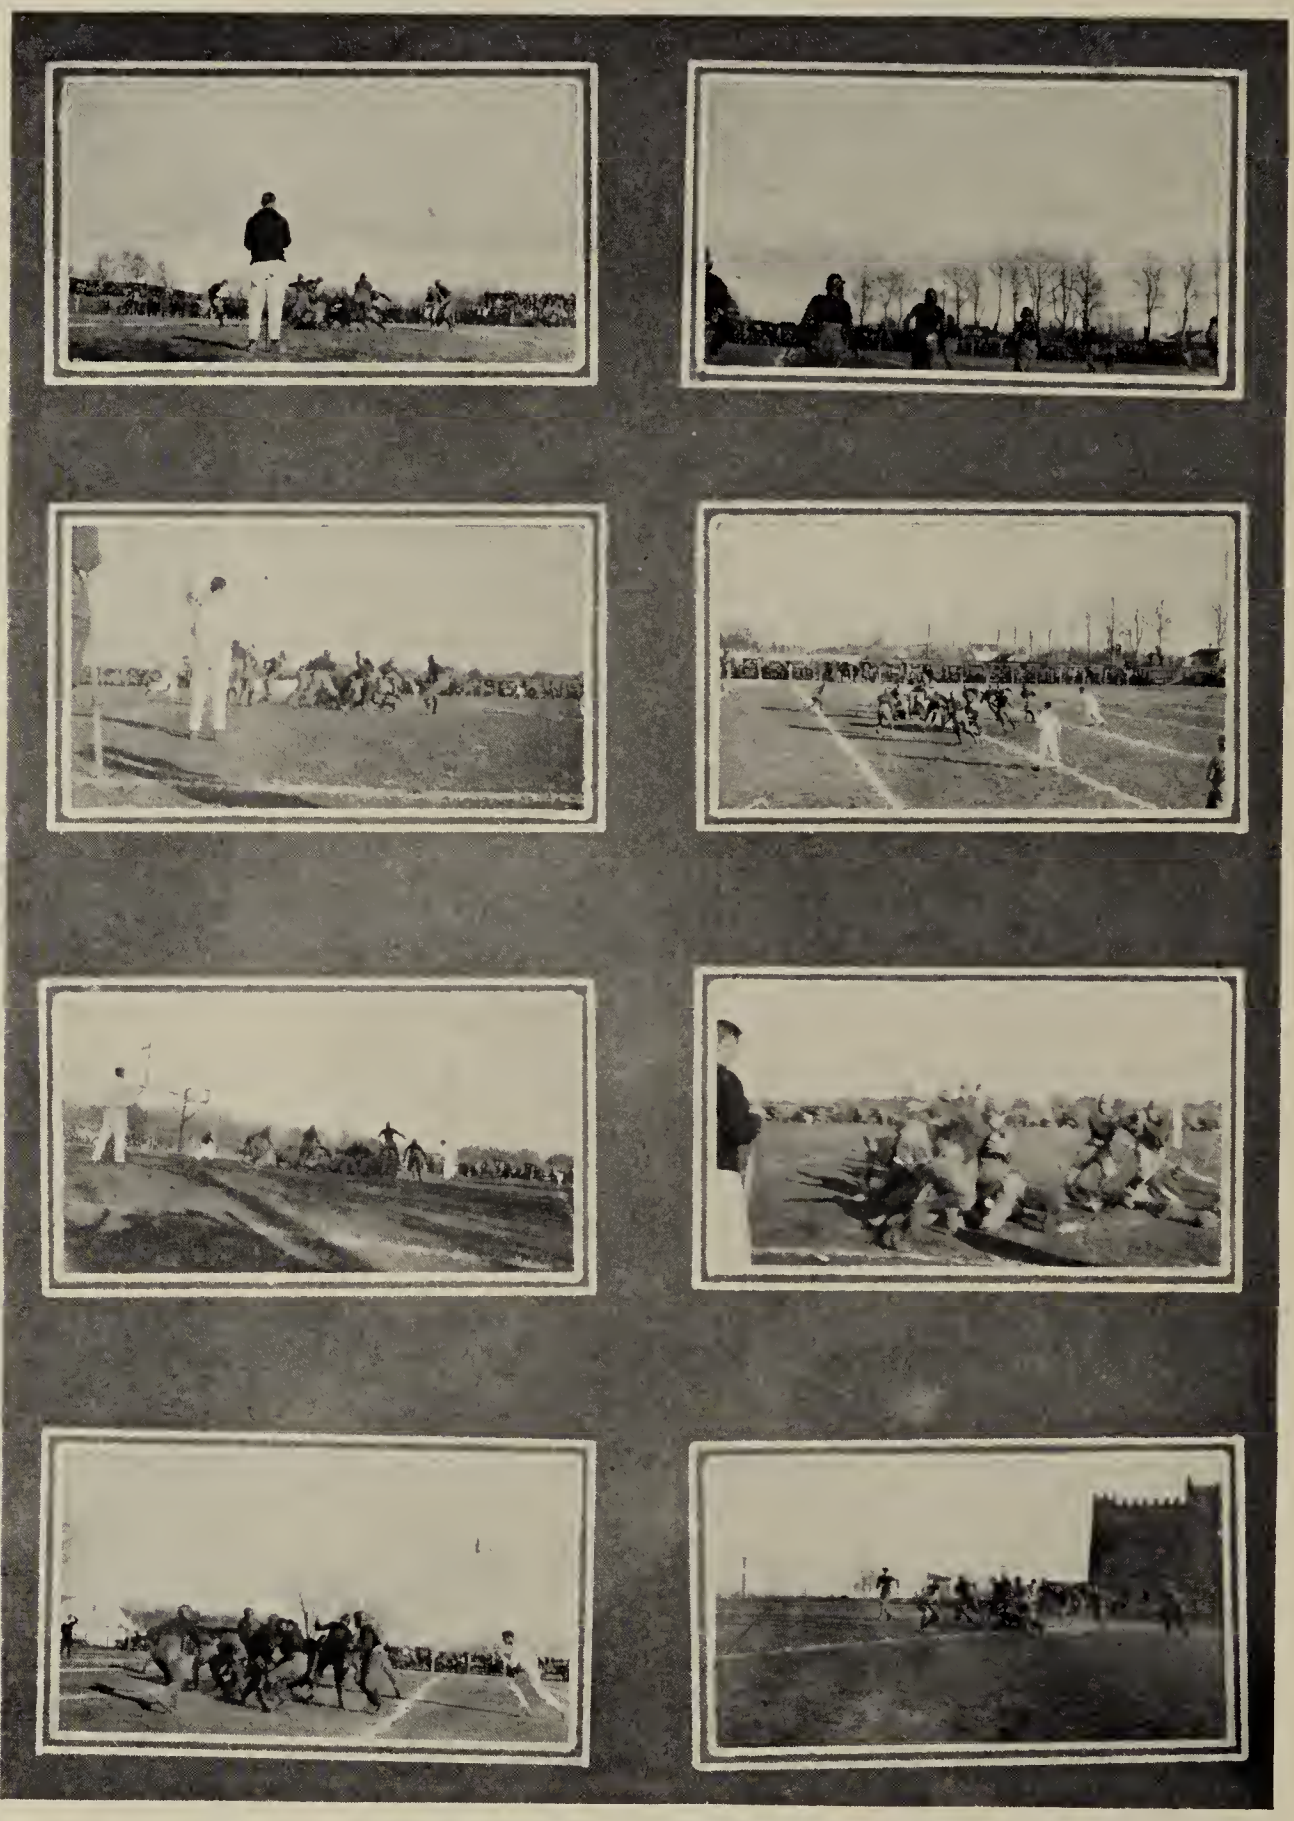

Wesleyan defeated Grand Island, November 17, by a count of 27 to 3. Clark substituting for Sowers made three of Wesleyans touchdowns. The Islanders made their only score in the first five minutes of play on a drop-kick by Odums.

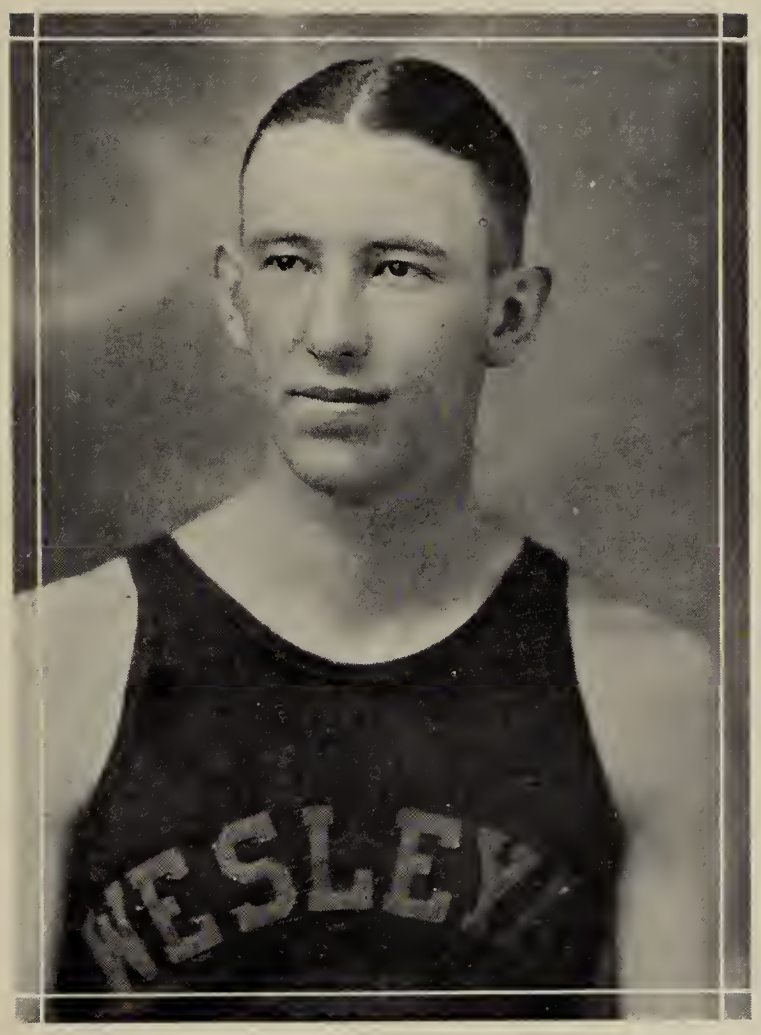

Wesleyan registered an easy victory the following week defeating Doane 43 to 0. This was the largest margin by which the Coyotes have ever defeated the Tigers.

The last game of the season, with Hastings on Thanksgiving Day, shattered Wesleyan's hope for another State championship. The Coyotes scored a touchdown in the first quarter, but the Bronchos came from behind and won, 9 to 7.

THE SEASON'S RESULTS

October	6	Wesleyan	25	Wayne 0
October	13	Wesleyan	0	Midland 0
October	20	Wesleyan	0	South Dakota Uni. 0

CAPTAIN RALPH HURLBUT

Center and Forward, third year

Hurlbut is recognized by all to be one of the best basketball players that Wesleyan has ever produced. Both as a center and a forward Hully has been an outstanding player and high point man in the majority of the games. He has excited much comment by coaches

Captain-elect
Alabaster

FRANCIS ALABASTER

Forward, second year

Ally has been one of the mainstays of the Coyote defense. Small and fast, he has contributed largely toward Wesleyan's victories and helped make the victories of the other teams hard earned. Ally will make an able leader for next year's team

JESSE BOELL

Guard, second year

Boell is the only man on this year's team who will not be back next year. His graduation will leave a large gap in the Wesleyan defense. Jesse has made almost every opposing forward resort to long shots as the only means of scoring

Boell

Yetter

HENRY YETTER

Forward, second year

Hank was especially good at sinking long shots from apparently impossible angles. With two more years to play, Yetter will have a chance to develop wonderfully, and should rank with the best forwards that Wesleyan has turned out

JOHN CALVERT

Forward, second year

Calvert's ability to wrest the ball from an opponent and get down the floor has accounted for many of Wesleyan's baskets. He will be back again next year and should work even better

Calvert

Gembler

ELVIN GEMBLER

Forward; second year

Gembler was the fastest man on the team. His ability to get down the floor has earned him many shots that would have otherwise been impossible

HAROLD BOELL

Guard; first year

Bully got his start when he was sent in to substitute for his brother early in the season. He displayed remarkable possibilities and with three more years to play he should develope into a stellar guard.

Boell

GLEN YETTER

Although Glen was taken from us before the first game was played, he was of varsity calibre and according to Coach Preston, he would undoubtedly have been one of the regulars. In basketball, as well as in all other things, Glen was characterized by his true sportsmanship.

BASKETBALL RESERVES

Brayman Steeves Paul Kemble
Roper Harrington Dinnis Weld

With the spotlight almost entirely upon the varsity squad, the reserves rarely, if ever, get any credit. Sitting on the sidelines, the student body for the most part sees only the results, and not the hard work that has been done to accomplish these results. The reserves play an absolutely indispensable part in building Varsity teams. This year's reserve squad was not an exception to the rule. They were out every night, working hard, taking all the hard knocks of the Varsity—all because of their loyalty to Wesleyan, and in order that the Varsity might get the practice that it needed.

CHEER LEADERS

Every athletic team must have the support of the school, which it represents, or it cannot win. This is true at Nebraska Wesleyan as well as at other schools. Therefore, we must give due recognition to the cheer leaders and the invaluable part they have played in athletics. They have been out to every game and have been unceasing in their efforts to support the teams, which have represented Nebraska Wesleyan. The three cheer leaders this year are Beryl Snyder, Claire Johnson and Lloyd Shepard. Beryl Snyder was awarded an official "W" in recognition of his services.

SEASON'S REVIEW

Wesleyan has had a basketball team this year of which we may well be proud. Altho the Coyotes did not win a majority of the games played, the circles in which they moved fully justified these defeats. With five letter men out at the first of the year, prospects were unusually bright, but the team did not seem to hit its stride until late in the season.

Six of this year's letter men will be back in uniform next year, Jesse Boell being the only senior on the team. Wesleyan faces another hard schedule, but with six veterans Preston should produce a team that will be strong contenders for the title in both conferences.

Wesleyan opened the season on her home floor, downing the Wayne Pedagogues by a 32 to 20 count. In the next game, with Midland, the Coyotes again won, by a score of 23 to 14.

Wesleyan inaugurated her first trip with a defeat when she met Simpson college at Indianola, Iowa. The game was fast and the outcome uncertain until the last whistle sounded, but the Iowans nosed out Wesleyan by a score of 18 to 17. The Coyotes were decisively defeated by the Des Moines tigers in the next game by a score of 51 to 10. The coyotes lost the next encounter, with South Dakota State, by a four point margin, 19 to 15. A journey into the neighboring state of North Dakota resulted in a 22 to 28 victory for North Dakota Uni. Wesleyan turned in her fourth straight defeat the following night when she lost to the North Dakota Aggies by a 20 to 13 score.

In the following game, with Hastings, the Coyotes broke their losing streak, winning, 20 to 19. Wesleyan won from Midland in the next game, this time by a score of 22 to 20. The Coyotes turned back South Dakota Uni in the next game, 43 to 36. In the next melee Morningside fought hard to gain a 30 to 28 win over Wesleyan. In the next game Trinity was defeated by a 23 to 19 score. South Dakota State compiled their second win of the season over the Coyotes when they won 27 to 23 on Wesleyan's floor.

After a lapse of two years, relations with Peru Normal were resumed by a game in the Wesleyan gym, which virtually settled the 1924 state conference basketball race. Peru won the championship when she managed to extract a victory by the sketchy margin of one point, the final score being 17 to 16. Wesleyan turned on Morningside in the next game and won 32 to 13. Cotner then proceeded to give the dope bucket a vicious boot by winning 21 to 15, at Cotner. Peru rubbed it in the next game when they beat Wesleyan, 38 to 16.

The Coyotes rounded out the season with victories over Cotner and Hastings.

The seasons results:

Wesleyan	32	Wayne	20
Wesleyan	23	Midland	14
Wesleyan	17	Simpson	18
Wesleyan	10	Des Moines	51
Wesleyan	15	South Dakota State	19
Wesleyan	22	North Dakota Uni	28
Wesleyan	13	North Dakota Aggies	20
Wesleyan	20	Hastings	19
Wesleyan	22	Midland	20
Wesleyan	43	South Dakota Uni	36
Wesleyan	28	Morningside	30
Wesleyan	23	Trinity	19
Wesleyan	23	South Dakota State	27
Wesleyan	16	Peru	17
Wesleyan	32	Morningside	13
Wesleyan	15	Cotner	21
Wesleyan	16	Peru	28

BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

Pitman
Dinnis Yetter Roper
Brayman
Boell Weld

The freshmen made a clean sweep of the basketball tournament, winning the championship by victories over each of the three other classes.

The first year class played together well, due perhaps to the fact that four of the regulars had played together in high school. The men who did the bulk of the work for the freshmen were G. Yetter, Roper, Weld, H. Boell, Braymen and Dinnis.

The freshmen turned in victories over each of the other classes; the sophomores registered wins over the seniors and juniors; the juniors defeated the seniors for their only victory, while the seniors failed to win a single game.

The rule which made Varsity men ineligible for this tournament perhaps handicapped the three upper classes.

Earl Raitt

Earl Raitt, veteran weight man, is captain of this year's track team. Raitt is capable of turning in a goodly number of points from the field events in every meet and is a worthy leader of the 1924 track team.

TRACK TEAM

Wesleyan has centered on track as the major spring sport. The team got a late start this year, but with a large squad working out daily under the tutelage of Coach Preston, prospects are bright for another successful season on the cinder paths.

Cassius Tanner

Wesleyan has supported a winning cross-country team this season. Led by Cassius Tanner, as captain, the Coyote harriers won from Hastings on Thanksgiving Day and took the Y. M. C. A. annual interscholastic cross-country meet.

Tennis

Charles McCandless

Tennis is now rated as a major sport at Nebraska Wesleyan. Although Wesleyan has had an organized tennis team in the field but the last few years, she has already stepped to the forefront in state tennis circles.

Charles McCandless is captain of this year's team. The men who will represent Wesleyan this year will be determined by the tournament to be held soon. It is planned to enter a team in the State Tournament again this year. Last year the Wesleyan doubles team, composed of McCandless and Harrel, won the state doubles championship, while in the singles the Wesleyan men stood high in the ranking. It is probable that a number of other matches will also be scheduled.

Two of last year's team, Hurlbut and McCandless, are out again this year and with three tennis courts in good shape and in constant use, the prospects are bright for another winning team.

"A Work-Out"

The work in Physical Education has for its chief aims: the correction of physical defects; the acquisition of grace and agility; the mastery of the principles of practical hygiene; and the formation of the habit of systematic exercise.

Our physical training program stresses the health of the students. The girls are required to take gymnastic work the first two years of their college course. On entering the University, each girl is given a physical examination. If found to have organs not functioning correctly, or physical defects and deformities, she is placed in a clinic class; if not she enters a class of gymnastics, athletic sports and games.

It is our desire to have every girl participate in some form of recreation each year she is in school. A sound body is an absolute necessity for the most efficient work.

We have organized a woman's athletic association to create a greater interest among the girls for athletics and those things that will make one a healthier and stronger individual.

Points are given for the different sports: basketball, volleyball, baseball, hockey, soccer, tennis, hiking, and bicycle-riding. By participating in these sports and winning a certain number of points, it is possible for a student to earn a "W".

Stadium

The old Wesleyan grandstand is no longer on the campus. It has met with the Biblical fate of being destroyed by fire and water. Consequently we are left without a grandstand to shelter us from the elements. It was planned that there should be a new stadium erected last summer, but these plans were not carried out. Wesleyan students are demanding a stadium and Wesleyan athletes feel the need of it. But it is only by marshaling every student behind the project that we can accomplish the realization of our dreams, and with every student doing his best Wesleyan can have a new stadium in the near future.

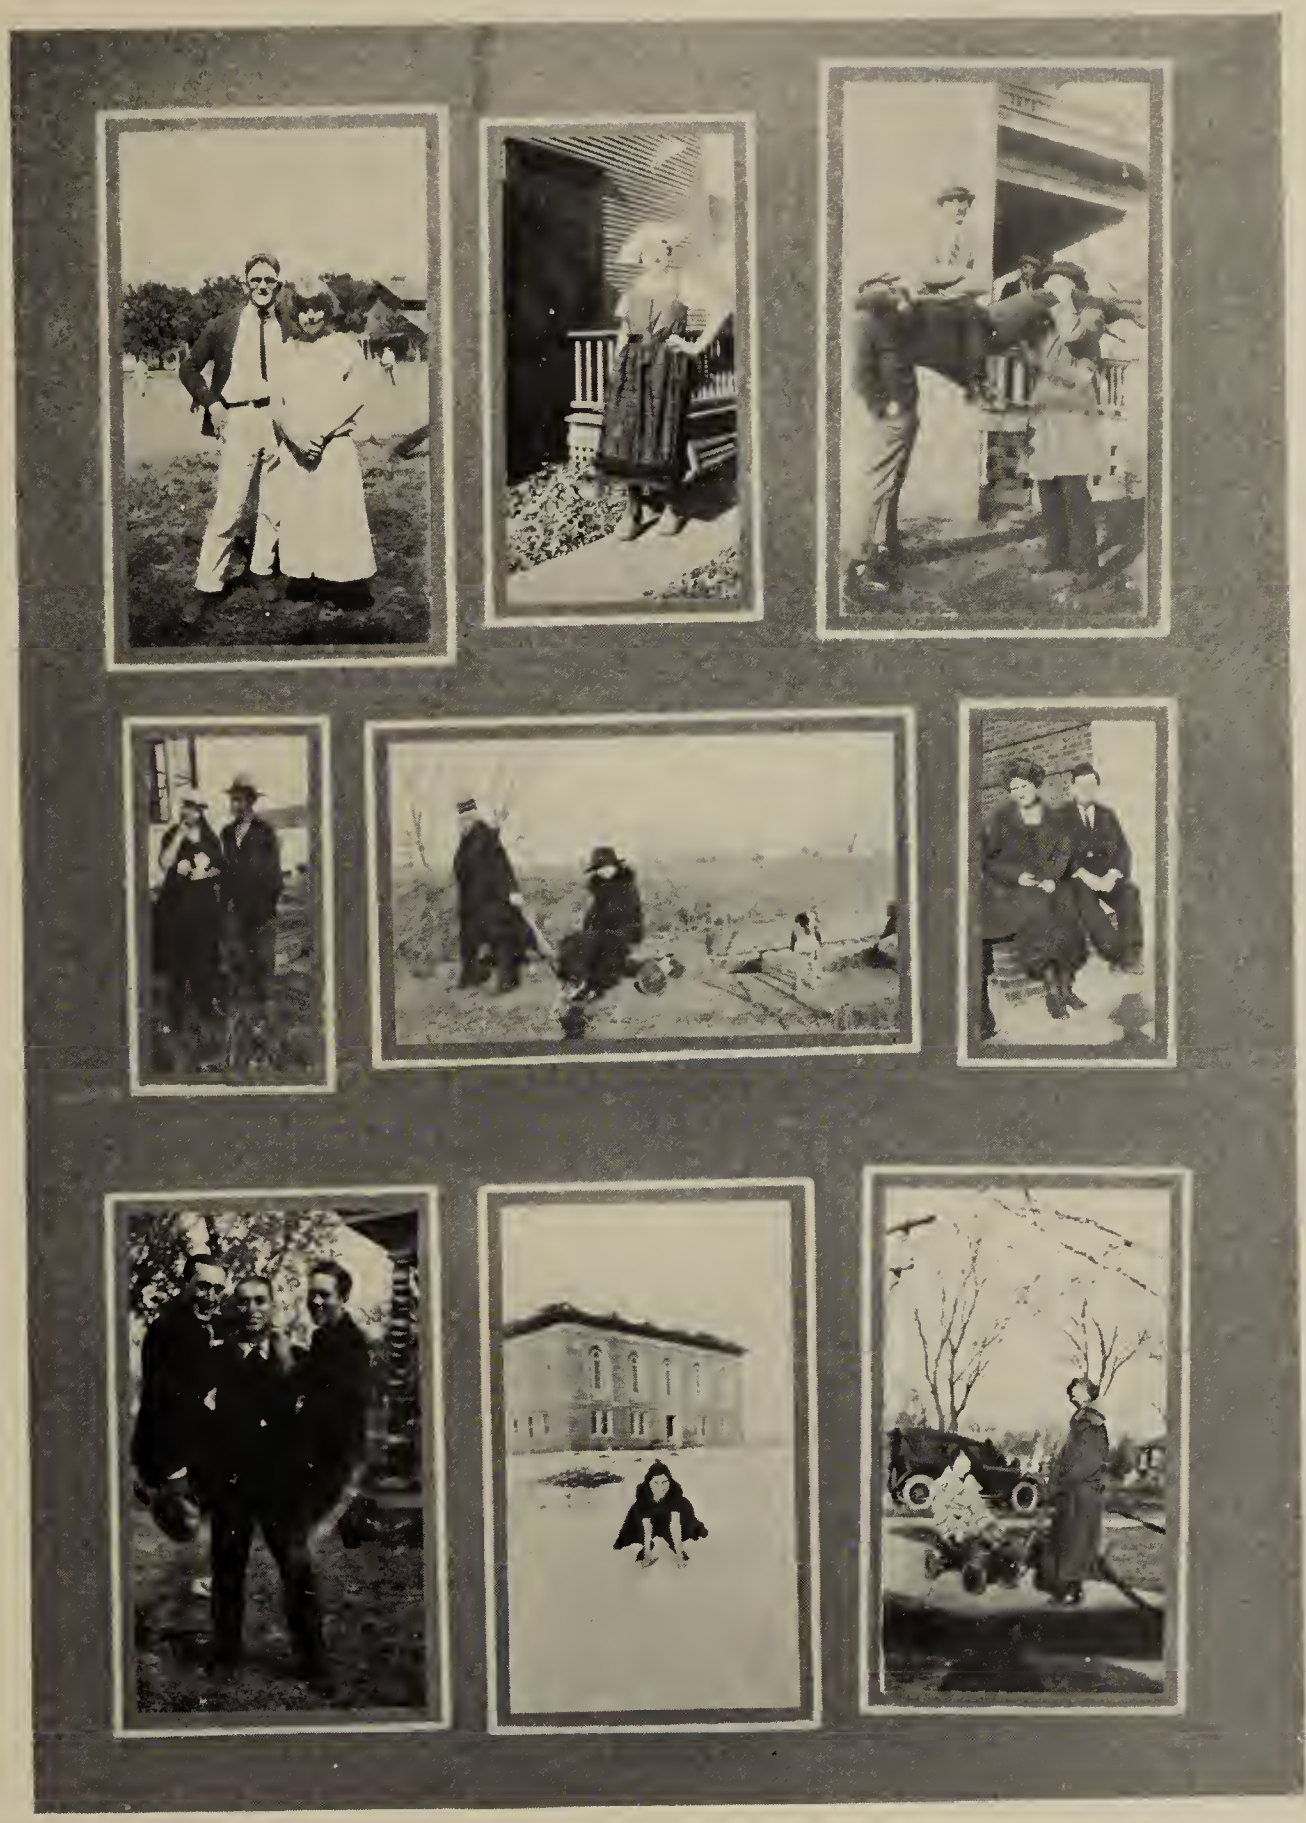

The erection of a new stadium would be entirely in harmony with the trend of Wesleyan athletics at the present time. Wesleyan is now in the process of transition into bigger athletics. She has dropped out of the State conference entirely in football, playing only three games with conference colleges, centering her attention on larger fields. The same is true concerning basketball, a majority of the games being with teams in the North Central conference. Although this is the period of transition, Wesleyan has shown her ability to compete successfully with these faster teams.

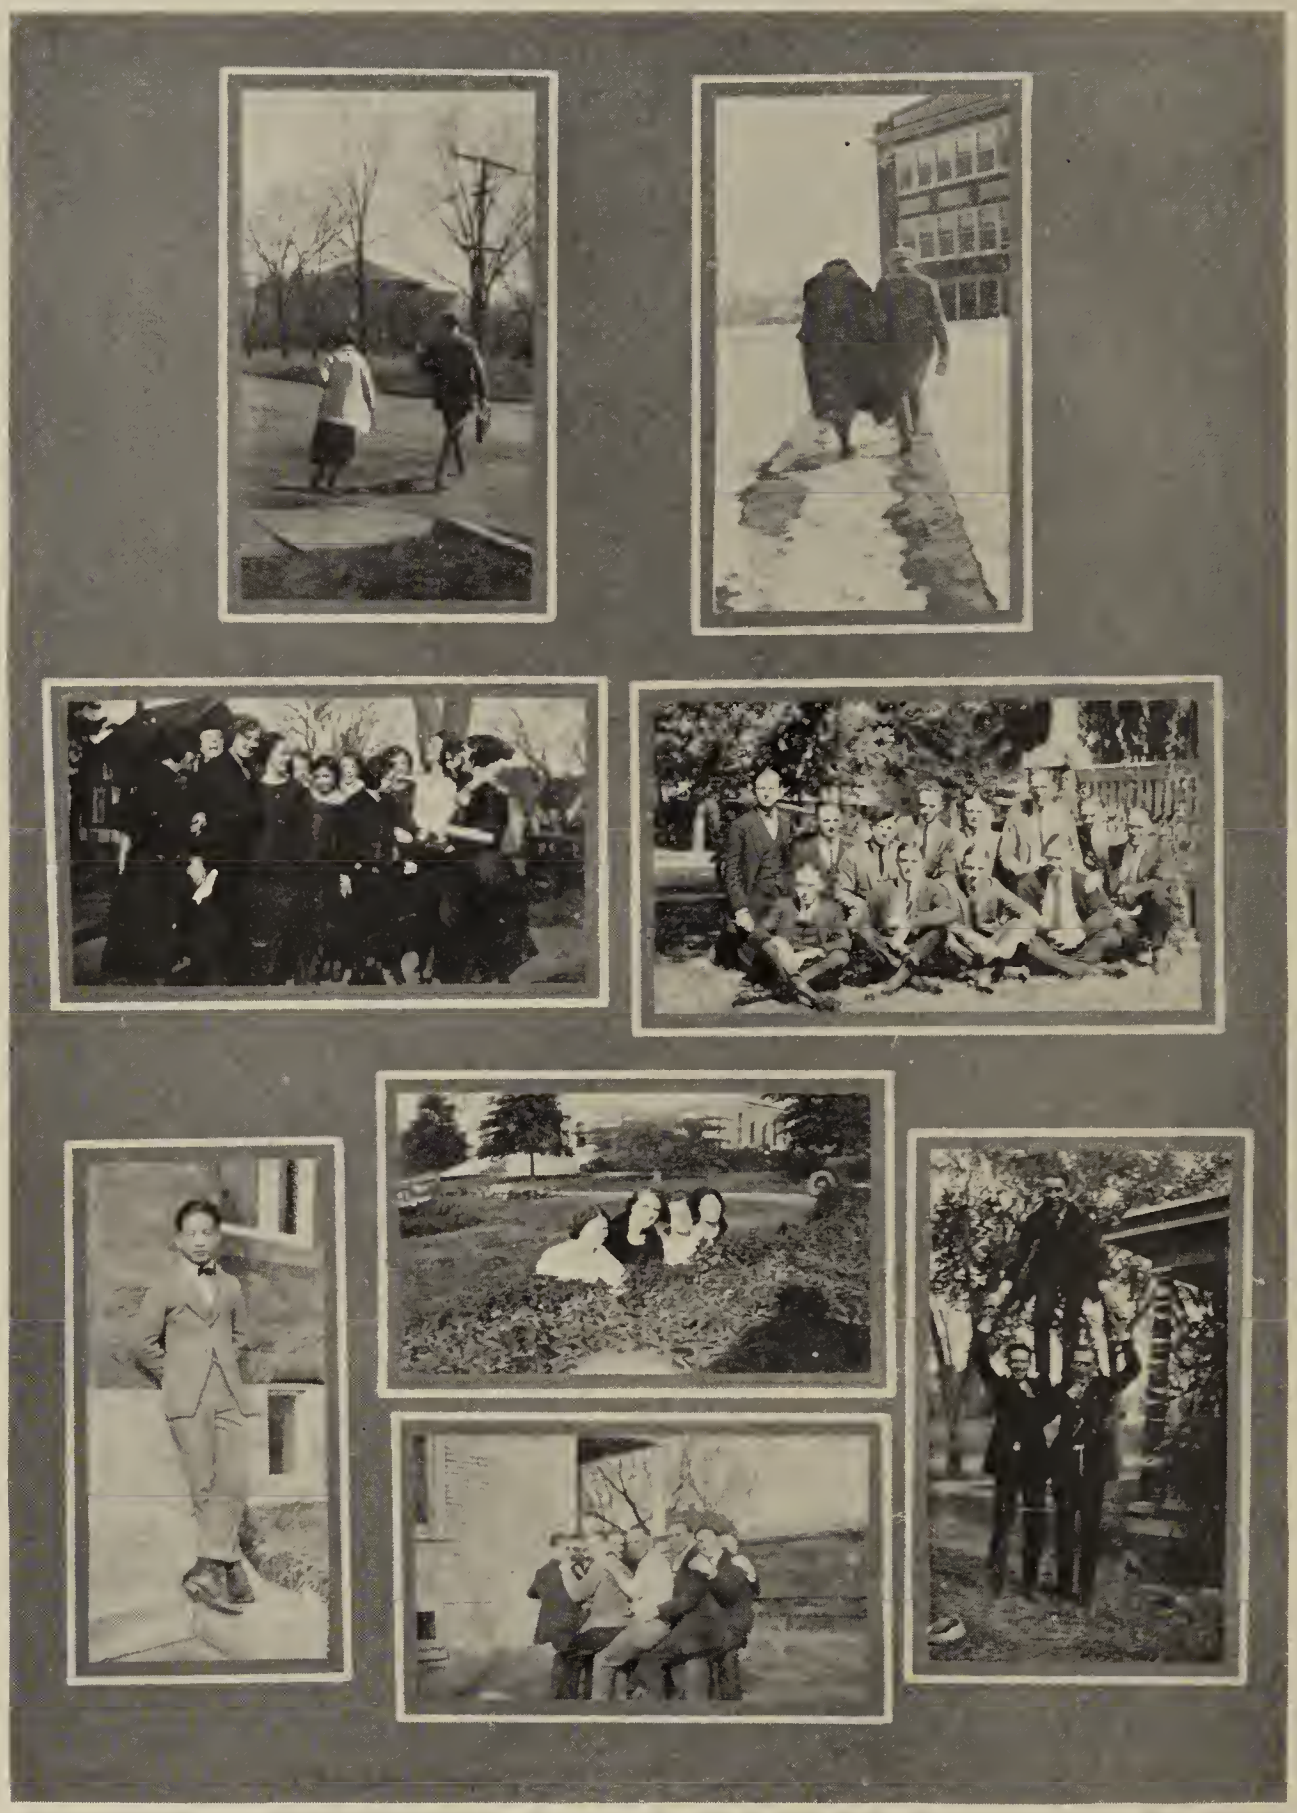

Wesleyan was not defeated in football this year in the North Central conference, although the Coyotes did not play a sufficient number of conference games to make them eligible for the championship.

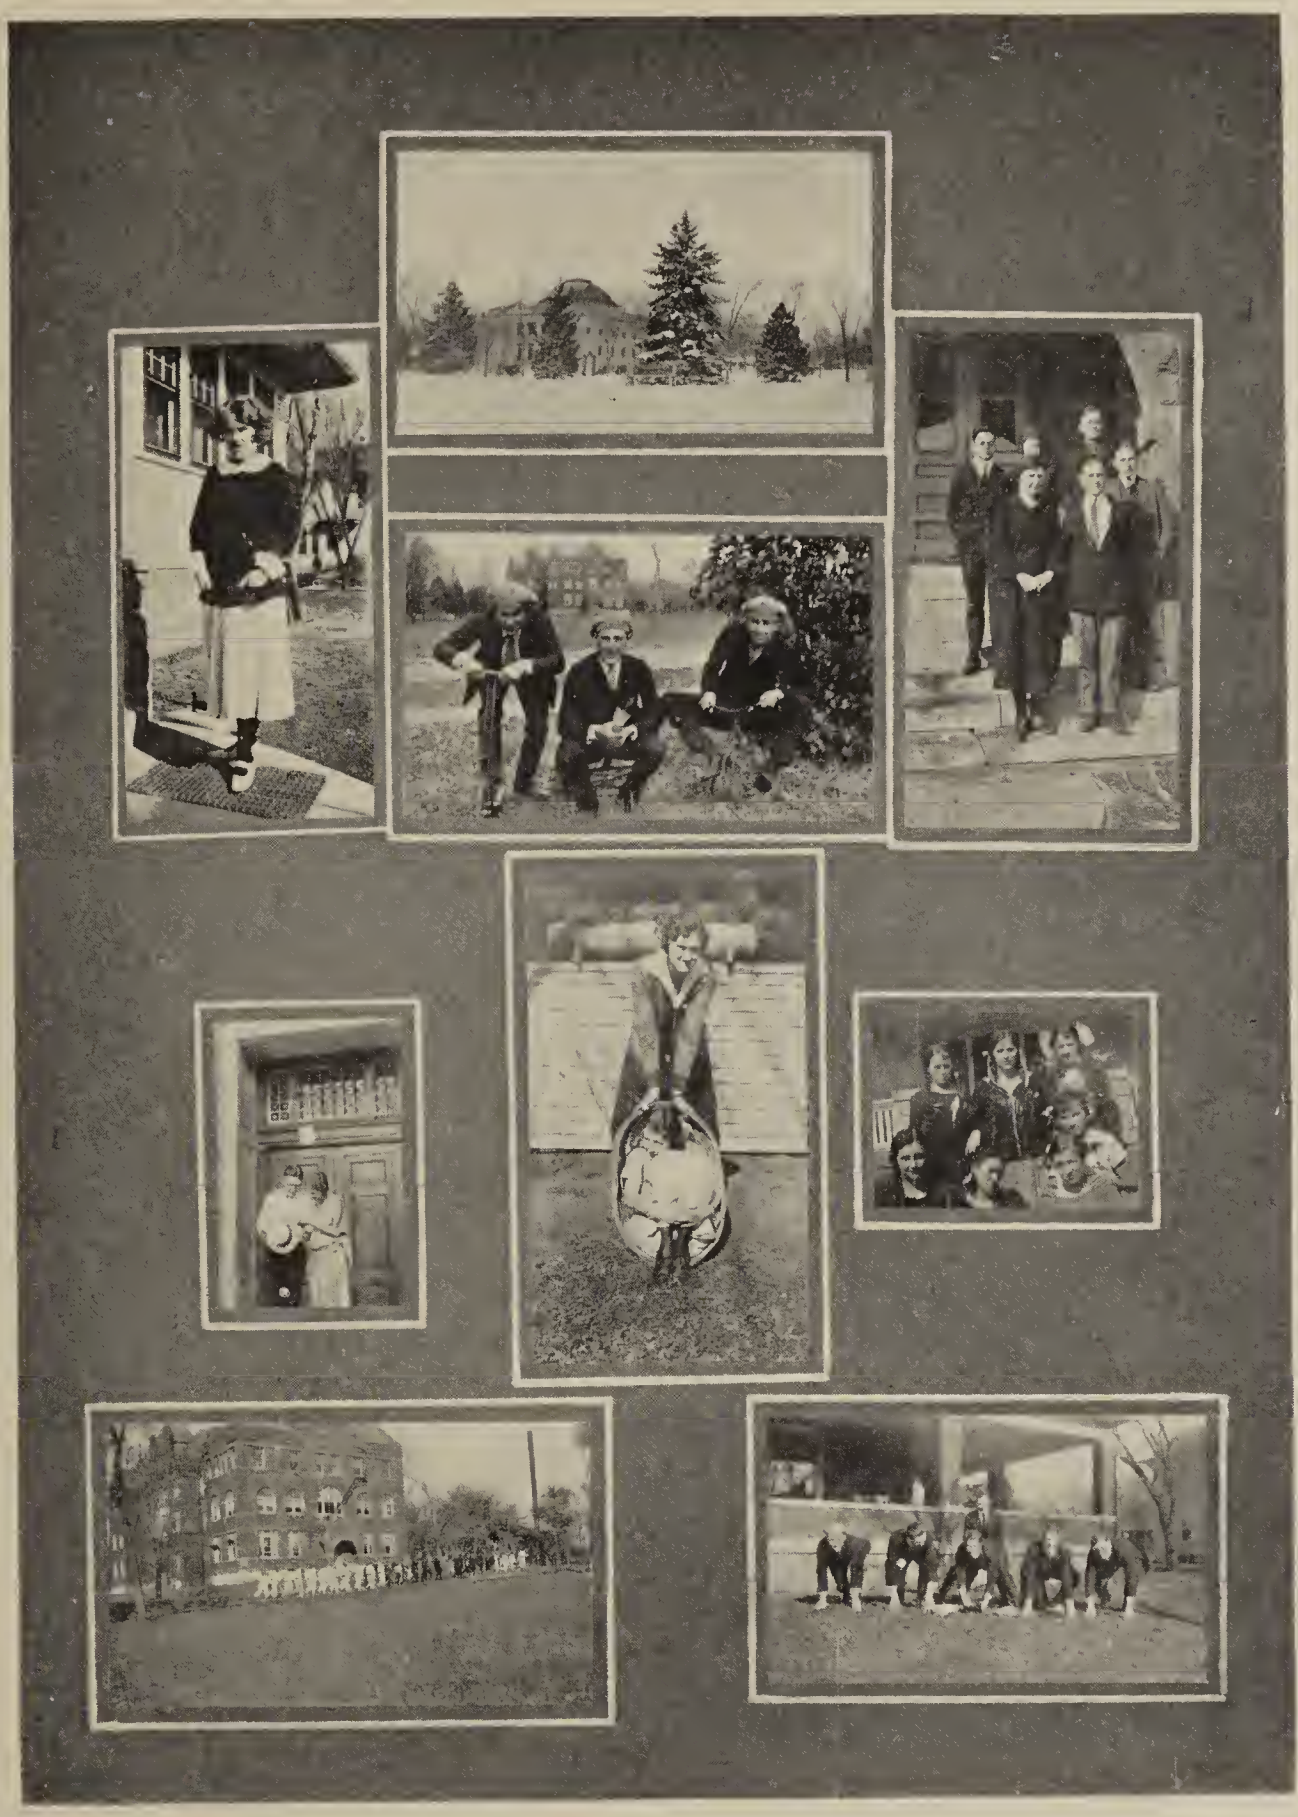

The freshman rule, which bars all first year men from competition in the North Central conference, will be put into effect next year. The freshman teams will be organized exactly as the Varsity is, with a coach, and with a regular schedule, which will include games with state conference teams.

The outlook is exceptionally bright for next season. In basketball, Captain-elect Alabaster will take the field with a nucleus of four Varsity men. In football, of the thirteen letter men, eleven will be back.

A MATTER OF DATES

A Frosh makes his dates for seven-fifteen so that he can reach a show in time.

A Soph makes them at six-thirty so that he can ring in on a free meal.

A Junior makes them eight-thirty and comes late so there won't be any place to go to, except the parlor.

A Senior will go at any time as long as the girl has got the tickets.

Mrs. Aikman: "You never bring me candy like you used to before we were married."
Prof. Aikman: "That so—well, you never heard of a fisherman feeding bait to a fish after he caught it, did you?"

Jean B.: "You were born to be a writer."
Ted Loder: "How's that?"
Jean: "You have a splendid ear for carrying a pen."

Catherine Birdsey: "Gladys is perfectly terrible. Why, she treats Beryl as though he were merely a pebble in her path."
Berthna Klann: "He'd ought to try being a little boulder."

THE SENIOR BLUES

D'ya know boy, I've got the blues—
Because my college days are o'er!
Yessir, I've got the blues—
Because I won't be here no more.
Now when I was a freshman I just yearned to be a Soph;
And when I reached that stage my hat to Juniors I would doff;
And then I looked 'way forward to a glorious Senior year,
But now that it's all over boys, you know, I feel no cheer—
I'd like to do it all again, each grade point, every fear!
I've got the blues for College Sports,
And College Women too;
I think of just a hundred things
That I would like to do.
I used to think the "outside reading" stuff was mighty bad,
But now my "outside" reading is a "Male Help Wanted" ad!
Is it any wonder now I ask you, that I should feel sad?
And I've got those "Hate to say good-bye (sob) Blues."

Homer H.: "I think Alva Trede ought to take out marine insurance."
Swingle: "Why because?"
Homer H.: "She often gets wrecked on that high 'C'."

Morris Peterson: "When I marry I'm going to marry a girl who can take a joke."
Wilson: "Don't worry, little boy, it's the only kind you'll get."

Life—one darn thing after another.
Love—two darn things after each other.
But it's a lot of fun when you're after the right one.

When a girl says "No" she means "Yes," but when she says "Yes" it's a shame to take it.

Frances McAfee: "Percy, have you ever loved another girl?"
Percy: "Of course. Do you think I'd practice on a nice little girl like you?"

Clement Young's mother sent a parcel to him one day, and enclosed was the following note: "Clement, I am sending your waistcoat. To save weight I have cut off all the buttons.—YOUR LOVING MOTHER." ("P. S.—You'll find them in the top pocket.")

People who live in celluloid houses shouldn't throw matches.

THE COYOTE ADVERTISERS

This section holds much of interest to you. Advertisers who believe not only that advertising pays, but also that Nebraska Wesleyan is worthy of much consideration have helped very materially to make this book possible.

Students, in your future dealings, remember that merchants, business organizations and tradesmen who believe in you and your university are worthy of your patronage and support.

Read On: Behind the clouds the sun is still shining,
Among the ads there's naught for repining.

SPRING ON THE CAMPUS

When the weather's getting warmer and the birds begin to sing,
And you doff your winter garments and can wear most anything;
When the grass begins to perk up and the formal season's o'er,
And each class is utter torture and your work a beastly bore.
When the girls begin to blossom in their nobby little hats,
And you hunt your tennis flannels and sort out your baseball bats;
When the folks at home are wondering,
"Why on earth that boy don't write,"
And the simple reason is—you're out most every nite.
When some instinct stirs within you that you'd like to be in love,
Yet you know you're quite unworthy 'cause she is so far above;
Don't you worry over all those doubts and those forebodings dread,
Or that awful tired feeling or that heaviness of head,
Or that you are surely worthless and that she is far too good,
Then you must get out, make money, carve your way, ah, if you could;
I repeat—ah, don't worry—I will diagnose your "case,"
'Tis a simple spring-time fever that just knocks you off your base.
Keep your courage high, and get a suit, and sport a nobby straw—
They say to get a cane for style—reblock your Panama;
Then when you're decked out in your garb and glorious in your might,
Lay in a stock of spoofing talk and start in fussing right.

QUEL APPETITE

As Cy Reed took his partner, Ruth Pilye, down to supper, she seemed to hypnotize the waiter when told to serve them, he seemed incapable of taking his eyes off her. At last Cy could stand it no longer.

"I say, my man", he observed, "what makes you stare at this lady so rudely?"

"It aint rudeness, sir, believe me, it ain't", returned the waiter. "It's genuine admiration. This is the fifth time she's been down to supper tonight."

"You're not the only pebble on the beach", hissed the goose.

"You're no Plymouth Rock yourself!" answered the rooster.

FIRST AID

The publisher of "The Book of Etiquette" should issue a volume for restaurant patrons entitled, "What to Do Till the Waiter Comes."

STOP WASTE

Don't throw mud. You can sell it to the beauty parlors.

ALL-TIME SERVICE

Regardless of weather conditions or time of day, street cars are at your service. They supply safe and rapid transportation at a reasonable rate of fare.

Student traffic is considered when preparing street car schedules. Short intervals between cars and additional cars during rush hours aid students in getting to classes on time.

GOOD EATING EVERY DAY

For Everybody

Old and Young

Iten's Graham Crackers are good for everybody. They are especially recommended for children of all ages, for old persons and for invalids. These crackers combine agreeably with almost every kind of liquid food.

The handy way to buy these good-eating, nourishing crackers is in half cans. They average 6 pounds net weight of crackers. This is just the right amount for use in the average size family. Half cans are returnable or exchangeable.

HOW LONG

Before the stairs in the Main Building are solid or collapse?
Before Clair Johnson loses his power of speech?
Before the Cafeteria changes its menu?
Before we get that stadium we want?
Before the men get that billiard room they want?
Before a Junior Play pays expenses?
Before Harry Vedder wrests the laurels from John McCormick?
Before Gladys Rising gets a frat pin?
Before the Student Councils?
Before some of the Profs smile?
Before we can cut chapel and get credit?
Before all the students buy annuals?

IN MISS DALRYMPAL'S GERMAN CLASS:

Chris Keim (translating): "When a customer entered the shoe shop the clerk came up and made a friendly face."

YET, IT CAN'T BE DONE!

Can't study in the fall,
Gotta play football.
Can't study in the winter,
Gotta play basket ball.
Can't study in the spring,
Gotta play baseball.
Can't study in the summer,
Gotta girl.

"I'll show them," said the hen as she kicked the porcelain egg out of the nest. "They can't make a bricklayer out of me."

Marie Howell: "Yes, my parents come of noble families. My ancestors won great renown on the tented field."
Dorothy Hare: "How odd! My father was a circus actor, too."

Q. What is meant by mortician?

A. The word mortician is a trade expression used by undertakers who are members of a certain organization. The word is in a class with the expression "realtor," which may be used only by such men as are members of a certain real estate organization. The word mortician is a derivative of the Latin word death.—Nebraska State Journal.

Castle, Roper & Matthews, with one in Omaha and one in Alliance, are the only undertakers in Nebraska entitled to use the word Mortician.

CONCERNING CHAPERONES

Prof. Wells: "What is the contribution of the Middle Ages to modern college life?"
Harlen P. (half asleep): "Chaperones"!

BUT DOESN'T HE?

"What a lot of kick a mouse would get out of his precarious existence," exclaimed Ethel Evans, "if he knew of the terror which he inspires in the average feminine heart."

Juno Loder: "Do you know, my mind has to be a perfect blank before I can go to sleep."
Lilian Calvert: "How nice. Now, I always have a terrible time getting to sleep."

AND MERE MAN WONDERS "WHY?"

Oh! The girls they sigh for him.
Oh! The girls they'd die for him.
But none'll get him,
The handsome Merrill.

There is Dorothy and Lucille,
There is Florence, too, and Edith,
And a host of A. K. D.'s who,
When he smiles on them, just beam.
There are A. D. O., Oro,
All a-following, half silly—
E'en the Willards stop their chatter
When they see him cheer the team.

But though the girls they sigh for him,
But though the girls would die for him,
Still none of them have caught him yet—
The "handsomest of men."

A MAN'S DISCOVERIES

Once upon a time I thought I understood women and could make any of them fall with one hand and my eyes shut. But, also, I have made these discoveries:

If you flatter a woman, she thinks you are handing her a line.
If you don't flatter her she is bored to death.
If you make love to her, she gets tired in the end.
And if you don't, she gets offended in the beginning.
If you agree with her in everything, you will soon cease to interest her.
If you argue with her in everything, she will soon cease to like you.
If you break out in a "Tux" and "stiff front," she tells you its an informal affair.
If you wear a plain dark suit, she spends all her time gazing at a man in a "Tux" and a "stiff front."
If you're jealous, she cannot endure you.
If you're not, she cannot understand you.
If you are persistent, she soon wearies of your attention.
And if you are cool and indifferent, she seeks consolation in some other fellow.
If you are old-fashioned, she doubts that you have a brain.
And if you are modern, collegiate and independent, she doubts that you have a heart or a scruple.
If you are frivolous, and inclined to be light, she longs for a mental mate.
If you are brilliant and intellectual, she longs for a playmate.
If you are "small-town" and domestic, she longs for a soul-mate.
If you are quiet and poetic, she longs for a helpmate.
Now I ask you, "What Do?" Don't ask me how I found out about women. I Haven't!

Steel Drawer Bodies

One Piece White Glass Medicine Closets

IMITATION is the sincerest form of flattery and attempts have been made to imitate this cabinet. It is unique and original and far ahead of anything else in dental cabinets. Sheraton and Chippendale were in advance of their time in the art of cabinet making, and our No. 120 Dental Cabinet has an air of the future that is hard to deny.

AMERICAN CABINET No. 121

This is the same as No. 120, except that it has wood drawer bodies instead of steel, metal lined white enamelled medicine closets instead of glass and chipped glass in doors.

AMERICAN CABINET No. 122

Same as No. 120, except that it has wood drawer bodies instead of steel.

On Initiation Day

Before

For a sorry-looking lot,
Let me briefly say,
Seek some near sorority,
On initiation day.
Where the old girls shake with laughter,
Freshman scrubbing every rafter—
A sad sight before and after,
On initiation day.

Paddles come in handy, too,
Let me kindly add;
They can govern and subdue
The unruly bad.
You can see some funny sights,
Little Freshies — simply frights,
Working hard for future rights,

"Long Distance" Will Keep Her Within the Family Circle

WHEN family ties are broken —when children leave home to attend school, take up work in another town, or for a visit—remember the long distance telephone.

Such times are always trying to Mother and Father, as well as to the one leaving the comforts of home.

But the long distance telephone —spanning any distance—brings the voice of loved ones back into the family circle.

Occasional chats by "long distance" with those away from home, relieve anxiety and are a comforting friend in dispelling loneliness. They will bring happiness to them and to you.

The new and unusual—that sparkling reality which is known as the life of each school year—is caught and held forever within the pages of Bureau built annuals. The ability to assist in making permanent such delightful bits of class spontaneity rests in an organization of creative artists guided by some 17 years of College Annual work, which experience is the knowledge of balance and taste and the fitness of doing things well. In the finest year books of American Colleges the sincerity and genuineness of Bureau Engraving quality instantly impresses one. They are class records that will live forever.

NEBWESUNI TO HAVE CHECKER TOURNAMENT

Plan Accommodation For Eighty-five Thousand

As the Yaller Hound is being chased off the press the tuition payers of Nebwesuni are wilder than Darwin's prehistoric professors because of the checker tournament scheduled to come off two days after the receipt of this great educational sheet.

The checker tournament is attracting attention from the entire civilized world and some people from Bethany will also be present. The trustees are building an amphitheatre with a seating capacity of eighty-five thousand. Susie and her band will be present for the occasion

The tournament will be played on Wednesday afternoon and all classes will be dismissed for the entire week to allow ample time for fistic encounters between the backers of the four men who will participate in the finals. Girls will be permitted to fight the same as the men—or in a worse fashion. The carnivourous and destructive tendencies of the men in the finals has been partially sublimated by the action of the college council and a senate investigating committee who decreed that they (the players) should be muzzled.

The big bonfire to be touched off as soon as the conflict is over has been prepared by the students. Eleven big trees and the first quar-

SCANDAL AT ANNUAL RECEPTION

RESIGNATION OF DEAN SWAN. DEAN WITTE REFUSES TO BE A PRINCE CHARMING

Wesleyan society was aghast at recent disclosure which the resignation of Dean Swan has brought into the lime light. Never before in a students memory have faculty irregularities been so gloriously exposed. It is intimated that only Dean Witte's discriminating foresight saved the more intelligent portion of the University from everlasting disgrace.

The Yellow Dog herewith throws the merciless facts to a hungry world.

It seems that the student body has been deprived of the most interesting details of the proceedings of the annual Senior-Junior reception held last fall in Hotel Huntington.

Whether by the order of Profs. Coatman, Marshall and Calvert, or by the combined efforts of the three (the facts are yet undeveloped). Hotel Huntington was fragrant with the Aroma of that symbol of brotherly ? love. It was suspended over numerous of the luxurious Settees and Davenports which make the name Hotel Huntington synomyous with ease, indulgence and daytime slumber.

Into this inviting influence the innocent youths of the school together with more or less innocent faculty members were projected. The usual program was being awaited in the usual way. Then the unusual happened. One of the fairest of the fair faculty members beheld an altogether irresistable sight—Dean Alabaster, sitting beneath a sprig of the above mentioned symbol. It was the chance of a life-time. And no longer would the experi-

Girl Athlets Show Rare Form

SPRING IS AMONG US

Having usurped the barber shops, the polls, and the leading brands of cigarettes the longer arm of woman is now reaching out to topple man from his position on the throne of athletic attainment. Gone are the days when woman's place was in the home; gone are the days when woman was spoken of as the weaker sex. Only a casual observation need be made to show that the female of the species is rapidly taking to herself the last vestige of manhood. Daily, scores of women romp unabashed about our fair campus clad in garments which have always been a mark of manhood.

But it is not without some admiration that the men look upon the possibilities which our fair competitors are showing. Nature has been exceedingly kind to some of them.

Leap Year and Spring being among us at the same time we are hardly in a position to adequately defend our rights. Men, let us embrace our competitors and struggle on till that happy day when justice and peace shall reign.

ter's accumulation of freshman English papers have placed in one huge pile ready to be ignited. As soon as the title to the belt is decided, Paul Sala, notorious sheik of the campus, will abandon his harem, which will be seated on the first five rows in the center section of the amphitheatre and rush from the building.

The finals of the tournament will be played by Ray Allen, George Wilson, Harold Boell and Earl Raitt. Gambling is as prevalent as overwork among the students and is being winked at by the gamblers themselves.

Backers of Ray Allen were confident yesterday that their Eskimo Pies were safe, and based their faith on past accomplishments of Mr. Allen. Allen is a great jumper and claims to have jumped everything but his laundry and board bill and they are getting too high for such an attempt.

Boell is not much of a favorite. When he entered the tournament he usderstood he was to play rows. Boell is a shark at rows. In this latter game he has been beaten only once and that was when someone placed a tack on his opponent's chair and he rose first.

George Wilson, one of the big favorites in matters pertaining to the destination of Eskimo Pies, holds his position by means of his expressiveness both to checker men and to his opponents.

Earl Raitt, however, is the big favorite among the gamblers of Nebwesuni. Raitt, because of his reputation as the marrying parson, is expected to accomplish great things in two-for-one moves.

A special police force under the direction of the debate team and the Chemistry Club will keep the crowd in subjection. In case the debaters fail, the Chemists will do their darndest with H S^2 —and the checker tournament and the audience will both be over.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Cecil Farnum appeared in his first pair of long trousers which is in keeping with the way he wears his hair.

R. W. Chenoworth flunked his freshman exam to-day. That is why he fell off his velocipede and was almost run over by a team of oxen.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiltsie put on his first pair of knickerbockers today. The reason is a shortage of rompers.

ADVICE TO LOVELORN

Dear Shocky:—I am a respectable young man with a Ford Coupe. Why do I have to go to Havelock to get a date?—Max Roper.

Dear Max:—Anyone with a Ford car could not be respectable. Go to Havelock. —Shocky.

Dear Shocky:—During my life I have gone steady with the following men: Otis Gregg, Skinny Adams, Harley Neal, Fenton Thoma and Paul Steves. Please advise me which frat pin I should accept—or should I wait.—Aulda Kerly.

Dear Aulda:—It is not necessary to be engaged when you leave college. Life is still ahead of you, dear, so don't try to reach and understanding with every young man you date.—Shocky.

ence be a tickling one. The ticklish element had been removed before the beginning of school. Acting upon the impulse the aforesaid member of the English department rushed over to the Dean and daintly placed upon the unprotected visage of the Dean, a kiss. Yes, really the reporter got it straight.

This affected the music department. The player of hymns played her sweetest him. That opened the lid for what followed.

Decorum and supposed dignity were lost to the four breezes, and the entire faculty became obsussed with the mistletoe spirit. Acting upon the motto, "Where there's a will, there's a way."

Dean Swan maliciously put a sprig of the said perennial above the most comfortable chair in the room. Here she seated herself and there turned out the piano lamp nearby, and then waited expectantly. The men of the faculty began to make excuses; Dean Alabaster had had enuff (thanks to the faculty feminish). Prof. Jensen didn't dare; Prof. Gregg had been smothered by an onrush and was just recuperating; Dean McProud hadn't been forgiven for his sandwich story. One hope remained.

The Head of the Feminish movement at Nebraska allowed her gaze to stray until it encountered the eyes of the hitherto unsuspecting Dean Witte. Then her eyebrows fluttered upward to the pendant above her head. She closed her eyes dreamily, waiting for the Prince Charming act. Then came the monkey wrench.

Dean Witte went on a strike. He refused to be Prince Charming. His one and only reason was; "I can kiss all the fat women I want to at home."

Dean Swan handed in her resignation and the University was forced to accept it. Mrs. Witte was appointed Dean of Women.

ART OF HYPNOTISM

1. Dr.: "Gifford, do you or do you not?"

Gifford: "Yes, I care for two others beside Julia. I can't recall their names."

2. Dr.: "Ralph did you or did you not?"

Ralph D.: "Yes, and No! I have and have not, but I really don't think I need to remember the chemistry."

3. Dr.: "Earl, did you or did you not?"

Earl R.: "Yes I have. And always say I'm sorry, and resolve to quit swearing."

4. Dr.: "Pick, did you or did you not?"

Pick D.: "Yes, sir, for two full hours we looked at that moon. Some moon too, Dr."

5. Dr.: "Ted, did you or did you not?"

Ted L.: "Doc, I did. I'll never regret it, for hanging a pin is a big event only to happen once in my life" (We hope Ted does not go back on his word).

6. Dr.: "Beryl, did you or did you not?"

Beryl S.: "Yes Doc I kissed her three times, right by the kitchen door."

7. Dr.: "Venton, did you or did you not?"

Venton L.: "No, Doc, I just go with her to spend my money foolishly."

8. Dr.: "Clinton, did you or did you not?"

Clinton S.: "Yes, Doc, I took two drinks one time. Boy, I never felt better in my life."

9. Dr.: "Paul, did you or did you not?"

Paul S.: "Yes, Doc, I kissed Lucille in the eye. And got so fussed I fell down the front stairs backward." (This must have a hidden meaning that we have missed).

10. Dr.: "Don Hare, did you or did you not?"

Dr. Don H.: "Yes, Doc, I did. But she wouldn't consider it until later in the spring." (Doc offered his handkerchief here).

11. Dr.: "Aubrey, did you or did you not?"

Aubrey C.: "Yes, Doc, I'm the originator of "Banana Oil."

Dr. "Allen, did you or did you not?"

Allen Bozwell: "Doc, I'm sorry, but I just couldn't help holding Mildred's hand in Chapel. Why she forced it on me."
